Group Finds OSR Efficient

Sees Need For Larger Staff

The Mansfield reformatory is operated as efficiently as possible with its limited funds, the Cuyahoga County Grand Jury association decided after an OSR inspection trip yesterday.

The Cleveland committee of 12 women and a man spent the day at OSR, visiting classes and cell blocks.

Mrs. James Leisy, representative of the Cleveland P-TA council, in the inspecting group, said: "The teaching staff should be increased, but I believe the reformatory is doing its best."

The Clevelanders, several of whom had never visited a correctional institution, said they were pleased with the over-all cleanliness of the reformatory.

R. J. Weininger, classification officer of the reformatory, conducted the group on its inspection trip.

"George J. Allard, acting superintendent of the reformatory, addressed the party on the aims and practices of the institution."

ALLARDING TALKS

He pointed out the primary difficulty in the reformatory today is segregation or classification of the various types of intellect found among the inmates.

"The range of education is the same here as on the outside, and prisoners range from morons to near geniuses, consequently prisoners should be divided into their own intellectual groups," Allarding said.

Ages of inmates range from 16 to 30. The inmates should not be herded together as one common group, he explained.

The institution has a 67 per cent rehabilitation factor. That is, 67 per cent of the former inmates are not returned to disciplinary institutions, the superintendent said.

At this point one of the delegation commented that the parole system was overloaded with as many as 175 to 200 parolees to an officer.

Allarding said the parole set-up was overloaded, but that was under the jurisdiction of the State Pardon and Parole board. He thought each parole officer should only have 50 men assigned to him with an absolute maximum of 75 in emergencies, he said.

He said the parole system should be one of counseling and not of "sniping."

The trip through the reformatory included the 21 industrial trade shops, the school and library, hospital, cell blocks, and the kitchens.

Hint Purge In Bulgaria

SOFIA — (AP) — Bulgaria announced the arrest last night of Vice-Premier Traicho Kostov, number two man in the country's governmental and communist party hierarchy, for excessive "nationalism" and attempting to "supersede" Premier Georgi Dimitrov.

(Reports reaching Belgrade from Sofia said that 300 persons, including Kostov and Rache Angelov, vice-president of the Bulgarian parliament have been rounded up in a large scale purge.)

Kostov, a member of the Bulgarian politburo, was relieved of his posts as vice-premier, and chairman of the committee for economic and financial questions.

The communique distributed by the Bulgarian government news agency said: "Kostov lacked sincerity towards the Soviet Union, particularly during the Soviet-Bulgarian trade negotiations."

This Accident Seems Like A Bad Break

CINCINNATI — Six weeks ago Eugene Thomas, 25, bought a used auto for $350. He spent $138 having it put in tip-top shape.

Yesterday he parked it, and started to get the spare tire out of the trunk. The car started rolling. Thomas tried to stop it but failed. He jumped as the car sped down a 100-foot embankment, hit a retaining wall and tumbled over, top down. Safety Patrolmen Paul White and Charles Geer described the car, after the mishap, as a three and a half foot pile of iron.

Thomas said he couldn't stop the car because the brakes didn't hold. But what irked him most was that part of the $138 tune-up bill was for repairing the brakes.

Mansfield Vets Mark Army Day

Artillery Exhibit In Park Tomorrow

Army day will be observed in Mansfield tomorrow by all units of the Army Organized Reserve, Army recruiting station, and the Ohio National Guard.

Feature of the day will be an artillery display at the west side of Central park. The guns have been supplied by the office of the Army Organized Reserve commanded by Capt. R. M. Flynn.

Capt. Flynn will have a 155mm rifle and a 105mm howitzer for Mansfielders to look over.

Company F, 145th Infantry, Ohio National Guard, with headquarters at the Armory on Ashland road and commanded by Capt. Charles A. Boughton, will hold open house at the Armory.

DAV Chapter No. 21, 102 1/2 North Walnut street, is observing Army day with an open house at its headquarters. Club rooms and the canteen will be thrown open to veterans, their families and friends.

DAV Adjutant Robert E. O'Leary said.

Blue Star Mothers of Mansfield will hold a tag day tomorrow to raise funds for their program of providing cheer in veterans' hospitals.

The tags, a blue daisy, were made by vets in hospitals who were paid for manufacturing them. Mrs. Mabel L. Harrington, chairman of the Blue Star Tag day, said.

Amvets To Be 'Brothers' To Derbyists

Twenty-five members of the Amvets signed up last night to act as "big brothers" to the boys who will compete in The News-Journal Soap Box Derby.

They will be advisers to the boys who have started making cars for the derby and will help them along until the cars are completed.

Amvets also circulated among members last night the DAV petition protesting the removal of 16,000 hospital beds from the Veterans Administration program.

Two contributions were voted—one to the Blue Star Mothers who start their annual drive on Army Day tomorrow and another to the Army Day expenses. Amvets will share expenses for the Madison theater with the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion. The theater will be used one day next week for showing Army films.

Robert Bonham, Amvet commander, Frank Heitz, John Lanz and Frank Schneider were named as representatives to the meeting of the Memorial Day association, set for Saturday in the Memorial building. At that time plans will be started for the annual Memorial Day ceremonies.

Faces Life Term

AKRON — (AP) — Eugene C. Arnold, 28, ambush slayer of his 22-year-old wife Jeanette last Nov. 17, was found guilty of first degree murder by three common pleas judges yesterday. A recommendation of mercy saved Arnold from the death penalty, but makes his life imprisonment mandatory.

Reds Plan New Drive In China

Peiping Peace Parley Begins

NANKING — (INS) — The Chinese communists today declared their armies will seek to cross the Yangtze river even if peace talks are successful.

The Red statement of policy came as formal peace discussions got under way in Peiping between the communists and the Chinese government.

An editorial of the New China news agency read over the communist Peiping radio said that "we will cross the Yangtze no matter whether peace talks result in any agreement."

Victorious Red armies are drawn up against the north bank of the mighty river which cuts west to east across the center of China.

The Red editorial declared that the Nationalist government headed by acting President Li Tsung-Jen and Premier Ho Ying-Chun "must break with Chiang Kai-Shek," retired generalissimo of China, "before there can be hope of cooperation with the communists."

The broadcast asserted that recent student riots in Nanking were the result of the Nanking government's "continuing reliance on Chiang and American imperialism."

The communists flatly declared that the Nationalists must arrest Chiang, Tang En-Po, garrison commander of armies in the Shanghai-Nanking-Hangchow triangle, and Chang Yao-Ming, garrison commander in the capital city of Nanking.

Few Register For Primary

83 Sign Up On Last Day

Eighty-three persons filed into the Richland county board of elections office yesterday to meet the deadline for registration or transferring their registrations. The office closed at 4 p. m.

Board Clerk Thomas R. Zeigler said the office closed at the usual time since there was not a sufficient number of persons applying to register.

He said the registration was light, just as it has been for the entire registration period. Only Mansfield voters will go to the polls for the May 3 primary.

Republican voters will choose between Mayor Roy W. Vaughn and First Ward Councilman Thomas B. Wright as their standard bearer for mayor. Charles O. Anglin, the Democratic candidate for mayor, is without opposition in the primary.

There are contests in both parties for the three councilman-at-large posts, and six other offices.

Eye Injured By Fish Hook

LONDON — (AP) — United States Ambassador Lewis W. Douglas is under treatment at a Southampton hospital today after an emergency operation for removal of a fish-hook from his left eye.

The American envoy sustained the injury yesterday while fishing in Hampshire.

The secretary of the hospital said that Douglas was in very great pain when admitted yesterday afternoon. An immediate operation was necessary.

Salesman Answers Phone, Then Car's Gone

'Customer' Flees With Used Auto

Police were alerted last night for a too-anxious used car customer who drove off with a car from the Mansfield Auto Sales, 220 Ashland road, while the salesman answered a telephone call.

John Borden, 177 Bowman street, salesman for the auto sales, reported to police at 3:30 p. m. that he was showing a prospective buyer a 1941 sedan when he was called to the telephone. Borden told police he left the keys in the car. A few minutes later Borden returned to find both his "prospective buyer" and the car gone.

The "customer" was described by Borden as five feet, 11 inches tall, weighing 145 pounds, and wearing an army shirt with air corps insignia and overalls.

Meanwhile, a Volunteers of America truck, believed driven away by one of the agency's INSPECT WHITE HOUSE—Members of the House Public Works committee leave the White House after an inspection tour of the aging building. Congressman J. Harry McGregor of the 17th Ohio district is shown second from the left. He represents Richland county in Congress. The committee predicted prompt passage of a $5,400,000 appropriation to renovate the building. Committee said the President's home looks much better on the outside than on the inside.

McGregor Finds Mansion Crumbling

Sees White House Threat to Lives

By MARGUERITE MILLER

Stating that the White House is in "deplorable condition," J. Harry McGregor, congressman from the 17th district, said today the people in his district "live in homes more modern than the one the presidents have been living in."

Reached at his office in Washington at noon today, McGregor told The News-Journal: "We didn't realize how we were jeopardizing the lives of those hundreds of people who go through the White House every day."

Richland county's representative is a member of the House public works committee which is advocating passage of a $5,400,000 appropriation to renovate the interior of the presidential mansion.

"I don't think anyone will have an idea of what it will cost, however, until we have engineers make a complete survey of the building," McGregor continued. He added that he met with President Truman two weeks ago to discuss the remodeling.

He said test borings made by engineers have turned up many broken supports in the building which was originally built in 1792. McGregor said the last renovation of the White House was in 1927 during the Coolidge administration when steel trusses were installed to lend support to the heavy structure.

"There's no foundation under the White House except a small crumbling foundation and it seems that all remodeling to date has only added weight."

During a tour of the mansion last Saturday with other members of the committee, McGregor said he found many instances of spread walls and sinking floors as well as patched plaster.

"The first thing we'll have to do," he said, "is to put footers in to hold the walls. You can't imagine what's keeping the walls up now."

Asked when the work on the White House would be started, McGregor replied "very shortly as it will probably take 18 to 20 months to complete the job."

He said that neither the exterior nor the recently-built executive offices will be touched. The renovation will be confined to the living quarters of the President.

McGregor added that a bipartisan committee of six men will be appointed shortly to see that all fixtures and other historical valuables are removed and safe-guarded during the remodeling.

Only change in the White House contemplated to date is the moving of the main staircase which, McGregor said, will be changed to permit the installation of steel supports. He said the stairs probably will be widened.

Pact Goes To Senate This Week

12 Nations Sign Treaty

(Pictures on Page 13)

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman is expected to send the North Atlantic treaty to the Senate before the end of this week with an appeal for speedy approval.

This is one of three major steps which officials forecast today for carrying out the pact that the President proclaimed last night as "a milestone in history."

The treaty was signed by 12 western nations in a solemn, fast-moving ceremony yesterday afternoon.

The other two steps are: 1. Completion of an American arms aid program, costing close to $2,000,000,000. Mr. Truman is expected to recommend this to Congress early next week.

2. Discussions among the 12 treaty powers on organization of a council and a defense committee.

The arms program probably will provide between $1,250,000,000 and $1,500,000,000 for American help in rearming the European members of the alliance. The balance of the funds would go to aid other non-communist countries such as Greece, Turkey and Iran.

Officials said no action toward forming the 12-nation council can be taken until the treaty comes into force.

Actual enforcement of the pact depends on its being ratified by the seven nations which originally drafted it.

In addition to the United States the other nations which must ratify the pact are Britain, Canada, France, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg. The other five which signed the pact here yesterday were Norway, Denmark, Iceland, Portugal and Italy.

FBI Agents Nab Cashier

Part of Missing Funds Recovered

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The FBI announced today that Richard Henderson Crowe, the 40-year-old New York cashier who disappeared March 27 with $884,660 of his bank's funds, was captured last night in Daytona Beach, Fla.

The FBI said Crowe was arrested in a Daytona bar. He surrendered without a struggle and told the FBI agents he was willing to return to New York to stand trial.

FBI agents said they recovered $54,798.63 of the loot from a suitcase in the Daytona beach apartment where Crowe had been hiding out since last Saturday under the name of Richard Karr.

Crowe was traced through two new automobiles which he bought during his one-week spurge in the southland. He abandoned the first car at St. Augustine, Fla., on April 1, bought another and abandoned it at Daytona Beach.

Mansfielder's Kin In Fire

One of the victims of the Effingham, Ill., hospital fire, Mrs. Herbert Lee, was a sister-in-law of Miss Zoe Shawber, 176 South Diamond street. Miss Shawber, an employee of Sears Roebuck and company, said Mrs. Lee was originally scheduled to leave the hospital last night, but at the last minute her release was delayed until today. Mrs. Lee lived in Florida, Ill.

Dr. Fred O. Tonney, former Mansfield-Richland county health commissioner, is health commissioner at Effingham and is believed to have helped care for the fire victims.

SPRINGFIELD — (AP) — Ezra E. Stabler was appointed by the county commission last night as Clark county auditor.

Screams Tell Tragic Story Of Holocaust

By HAYDEN BRADFORD

EFFINGHAM, Ill. — (UP) — A fire swept through St. Anthony's hospital early today, turning it into a blazing death trap, and authorities said 57 persons probably were killed.

Nine newborn babies died in the disaster, one of the worst hospital fires in the nation's history. Two other babies were born dead after their mothers were injured in jumping out of hospital windows.

The fire started shortly before midnight in the basement of the three-story brick building, the first section of which was built 80 years ago. The origin was not known. A laundry chute, like a giant flute, sent flames sweeping up through the building with deadly swiftness.

Screams of the victims told the gruesome story: Some patients died groping through thick smoke and flames that filled the corridors. Others died helpless in their beds, some with broken limbs in suspension slings. Fireman Charles Jaycox said about 12 patients jumped from windows, one being killed and several injured.

Police estimated that at least 15 persons were injured in escaping. Mrs. Wenton Sidner, 22, who was in a delivery room annex waiting to have a baby, jumped from a second floor window. She suffered a broken back and arm. Her baby was born dead an hour later. Mrs. C. J. Springer, another expectant mother, also jumped and her baby was born dead.

Much of the interior of the building collapsed. Hours after the flames were put out firemen were digging through the debris and carrying bodies to an improvised morgue.

The Rev. John J. Goff, pastor of St. Anthony's church connected with the hospital, said the best estimate of the number of patients in the building was 108. Fifty-five were known to have survived, he said.

The other 53 either were missing or known dead, he said, and four non-patients were missing and presumed dead. Among the dead were nine newborn babies in the hospital nursery on the second floor, Goff said.

Among the missing and presumed dead, he said, was Miss Fern Riley, 21, a nurse who refused to leave the babies. Dr. Glen R. Marshall, staff physician, said there were 112 persons in the hospital, but he apparently included the four non-patients.

Nine hours after the fire started, 19 bodies had been recovered, including the bodies of the nine infants. Thirteen had been identified.

The known dead included the Rev. C. C. Sandon, chaplain at the hospital, two nuns, Sisters Bertina and Estachia, were believed to have died in the fire. Firemen put the bodies in a temporary morgue set up in an adjacent building on the hospital grounds.

National guardsmen with rifles and state police patrolled the area. Inside the shell of the burned building the occasional crash of falling masonry could be heard, and the firemen had to work cautiously at their grim job.

Some of those who perished were old age pensioners in the hospital's charity ward on the top floor, authorities said. Of the 22 Catholic sisters in the hospital at the time of the fire, 20 had been accounted for and two were missing.

Goff said the hospital records were burned and that an exact count of the dead would be difficult. Firemen said it might be hours before all of the bodies could be recovered.

Part of the building collapsed into the basement in a smoldering heap of brick, mortar and rubble. One of the non-patients listed among the dead was Frank Reis, hospital engineer who lived next door. He dashed into the flaming building in an attempt to save his wife, a patient on the second floor.

Some of the patients escaped by jumping from windows. Mrs. Arnold Aderman was having labor pains when the fire started. She climbed down a ladder from her second story room, was taken home and gave birth to a son. She and the baby were reported in good condition.

The fire destroyed the only hospital in this town of 6,000 persons, which lies 180 miles south of Chicago, and 75 miles southeast of Springfield. Some of the patients were taken by ambulance to hospitals in neighboring towns. A maternity ward and nursery were situated on the top floor. The only persons to escape from the floor were three women who

Eyewitnesses Describe Horror of Fiery Deaths

By WILLIAM ESCH

EFFINGHAM, Ill. — (UP) — I was four blocks away from St. Anthony's hospital when the fire alarm sounded . . . and I ran with the firemen to the burning building.

There was fire pouring out of the front windows of the flaming structure . . . even as the firemen were trying to hook up their hose . . . and I heard the cry: "My God. There isn't enough water!"

The water pressure was low. I turned and looked and women were jumping out of the second story windows . . . men were jumping out of the third floor windows . . . They crawled along the ground towards the nearest light and away from the fire.

There were screams coming from all around me . . . probably patients . . . and I ran toward the entrance, but it was in flames. So I turned and ran toward the only entrance available . . . the rear one.

Everyone, it seemed, was also running for the rear door to help.

There were people all around me, dragging, carrying patients, anywhere at all to get them clear of the fire.

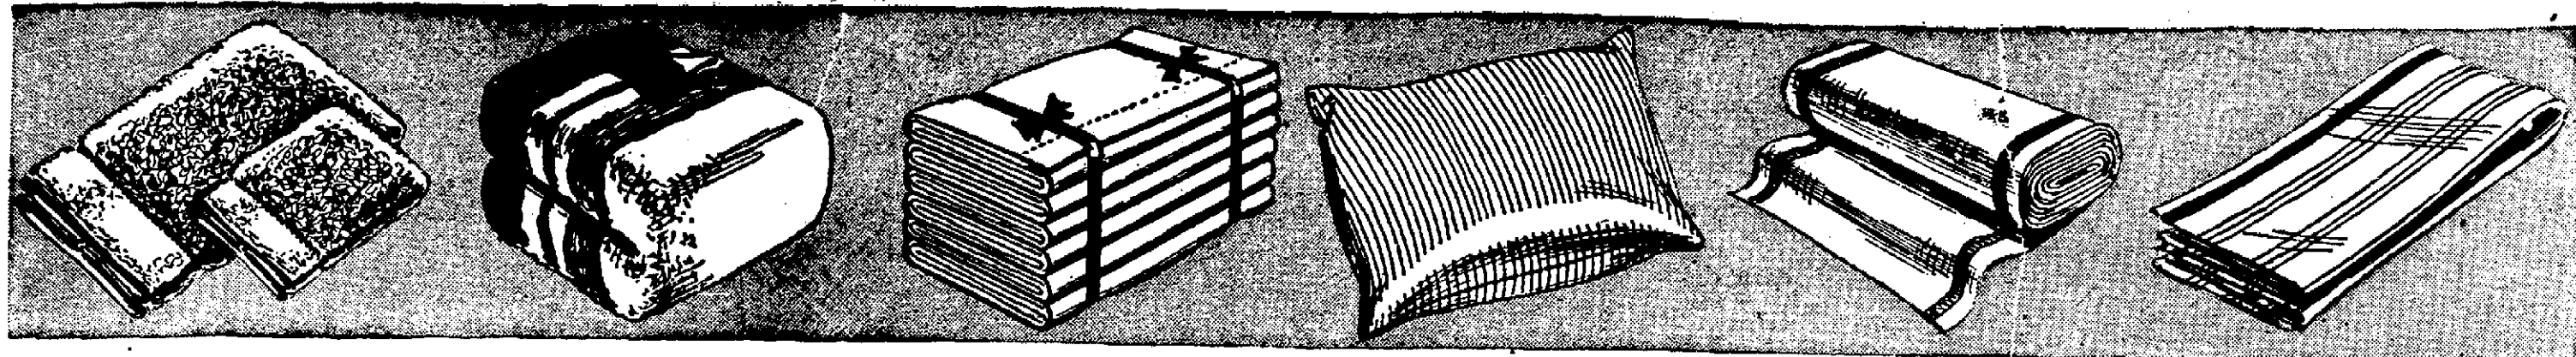

There was a brick boiler room at the rear of the hospital — a safe distance — and the injured and rescued were taken there.

The sisters — nurses — were all about — lending a hand where they could. People were crying — many were praying . . .

The patients who jumped were taken to the storeroom, and we gave morphine to those who were in a lot of pain. There were a lot of them.

As soon as ambulances from hospitals in other towns began arriving, we put the patients on the ambulance stretchers and took them to nearby homes.

There wasn't much we could do. Everybody felt so helpless.

Galion Edges Madison In Ball Opener, 2-0

Tigers Get Only Hits In Big 6th

By CHARLEY STINE

The Galion Tigers got all of their hits in one inning yesterday to defeat Madison 2-0, in the hastily-scheduled high school baseball opener at Blue Goose park. . . . Galion bunched its only two hits and a walk for the two tallies in the top half of the sixth inning to break up what had been a sterling pitcher's duel between the Tiger's 15-year-old sophomore, Ray Seif, and Madison's Dutch Bader.

Lack of batting practice for both teams made the pitcher's job an easy one. Nine Madison batters went down on strikes while Bader took 12 down swings.

The game was originally scheduled last Thursday but was postponed by rain. But with the coming of yesterday's sunny weather Coaches Ed Ranow of Galion and Blaine Dowler got together around noon and set up the game.

PLAY AGAIN TODAY

Madison will meet Lexington high at 4 p. m. today with Tim Nedro, a pony left-hander, set to do the pitching. Nedro is a junior and got his only pitching experience in the Hot Stove Junior league last summer. The Rams travel to Lucas Friday.

Bader and Third-baseman Larry Sechrist both looked good in defeat. Each got two hits, one of Sechrist's being ringed double over the left-fielder's head.

McCanigall led off the sixth with a single over second base. Tucker attempted to sacrifice but Bader threw McCanigall out at second. Clean-up man Stoner then slapped the deciding hit into right field to bring both men home.

Madison threatened in the seventh but the rally ended when Ed Chelski was caught off second base after Jim Brightbill's fly. Gene Riblet led off the inning with a single to right, and Chelski forced him at second.

Van Brocklin To Join Rams

LOS ANGELES — Norm Van Brocklin, passing star of the University of Oregon football squad, probably will play next fall with the Los Angeles Rams of the national pro circuit. . . . Coach Clark Shaughnessy of the Rams said yesterday he had been informed that Van Brocklin graduates in June. "This means he will be with our Ram squad this summer, which is mighty good news for us," the coach added. . . . Efforts have been made at Oregon to induce Van Brocklin to postpone his graduation so he can remain with the webfoot team next fall.

Dodgers Up to Old Tricks; Top Grapefruit Standings

NEW YORK — The Brooklyn Dodgers, once again, sport the best record among National and American league teams in grapefruit league competition. . . . The Dodgers, as in the past two years, have cleaned up against minor league teams in compiling their imposing record.

Burt Shotton's crew has won 13 games and lost four for a .765 mark. They have posted eight wins without a loss against minor league teams.

The Dodgers, who were grapefruit league kings in 1947 and 1948, have won 59 games and lost only five to minor league teams the past three seasons. Against major league clubs the Dodgers have a three-year record of 14 wins and 12 setbacks.

Pittsburgh's Pirates, leaders in the National the past two weeks, dropped to second. The Pirates have a 15-4 record. Every team in the National with the exception of the Boston Braves is playing at a 500 or better clip. The Braves are last with an 8-13 record.

The Philadelphia Athletics continue to boast the best mark in the American league. The A's have won 15 and lost six for a .714 mark. The A's also have harked on minor league opposition, winning nine games in 12 starts against the minors.

A veteran of service with the Canadian army in World War II, Demchuk won his crown from Frankie Talaber, who will appear in one of the supporting bouts on Saturday's card. Talaber will team with Karol Krusier, the Polish giant, against Wild Bill Zimovich and Don Evans in the tag-team semi.

This High School Tosser Doesn't Believe In Runs

LONG BEACH, Calif. — Major league scouts are keeping tabs on a 16-year-old Wilson high school junior who is phenomenally adept at making batters fan the breeze. . . . His name is Frank Followell. The six-foot southpaw has pitched seven games this season. Three have been no-hitters and the other four merely shut-outs.

Frank hasn't been scored on in 49 innings. "It's a matter of temperament," Cliff Meyers, his coach, explained today. "Frank just can't stand to have enemy batters touch his offerings."

Meyers goes on to say Frank isn't just another kid with a lot of speed. He's got a remarkable change of pace, slow curve, fast curve and a drop. . . . Tickets are on sale at City News.

Davis to Coach Frosh Gridders

LOS ANGELES — Lt. Glenn Davis, former all-American army backfield ace, will report to West Point April 26 as a assistant freshman football coach. . . . "My orders carry through for nine months," Davis said yesterday, adding "I'd like to play pro football in 1951."

Commissioner Says NCOOA 'One of Best'

Ohio High School Athletic Commissioner H. W. Emswiler told the North Central Ohio Officials association last night that it has one of the finest groups of its kind in the state.

Emswiler spoke at the annual dinner meeting of the association, held in the banquet room of the Cramer hotel. After commending the local chapter for its work, the commissioner discussed various problems of officiating and new and proposed rule changes.

Some 55 football and basketball referees and coaches attended the session. Officers re-elected were A. C. "Tony" Grant, president; Ken Gallant, vice-president, and Jimmy Lympy, secretary-treasurer. Fred Tharp served as toastmaster.

Giants Lower Boom on Cleveland, 15 to 10

Lemon and Zoldak Feel 17-Hit Sting

LUBBOCK, Tex.—(INS)—The Cleveland Indians, boots and saddle intact, doffed their 10-gallon hats and blue jeans and rambled over to Lubbock, Tex., today where they hope to calm the heap big bats of the New York Giants.

Southpaw Injun Frank Papish was to be on the mound against Ray Foat of the Giants. Cleveland's wranglers were a bit slow on the draw yesterday at El Paso where the Giants opened fire on Bob Lemon and Sam Zoldak to win 15-10.

The Empire City boys, spring playmates of the Indians for the past few seasons, lowered the boom on Bob Lemon and Zoldak, who combined their efforts to give the Giants 17 hits.

Six of the thunderous New Yorkers' blasts were doubles and three were home runs. Walker Cooper, Bobby Thomson and Pitcher Clint Hartung connected for the circuit.

Not to be outdone, however, the world champs blasted 15 hits off Hartung and Monte Kennedy, but they left too many Redskins stranded on the basepaths.

Lemon chucked the first four innings, in which time he allowed eight hits and seven runs. Sad Sam went the remaining distance, giving up nine bingles.

The score was tied at seven-when Lemon took to the show-ers, but the Giants racked up three runs in the fifth and another three in the sixth to put the clincher on the game. They added two more in the eighth for good measure.

GET TWO APEICE
Manager Lou Boudreau, Dale Mitchell, Catcher Ray Murray and Hank Edwards led the Indians' hit parade with two bingles each.

The citizens of Mineral Wells and Gordon, Tex., have petitioned Manager Boudreau, asking that Thurman Tucker, who lives in Mineral Wells and was born in Gordon, be allowed to play center field when the Tribe plays in Ft. Worth Thursday.

Boudreau has consented, so Tucker will play center field. He probably would have been in that spot anyway, because the shortstop-manager feels that Larry Doby is in need of a rest. Doby has been in the lineup more than any other Indian.

Casey to Fight . . .
SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—(INS)—Hugh Casey, the ex-Brooklyn fireman, will have a lot of relief duty for the Pittsburgh Pirates this season*but Manager Billy Meyer says it will be only for very short stretches.

He says he is most effective when he has only one to four innings of relief to hurl. If Meyer's plans work out he'll use Kirby Higbe, another Brooklyn pitcher, for the long-distance relief chores.

Porterfield Tough . . .
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(UP)—Casey Stengel, the New York Yankees' freshman manager, was exceedingly jovial today for two big reasons—Joe DiMaggio and Bob Porterfield.

DiMaggio, still nursing an ailing heel, snapped out of his slump yesterday when he delivered a double and single in three trips to the plate. It marked his

EL PASO, TEX.—(INS)—Ancient Satchel Paige, whose age nobody knows, was a bit hurt today.

Before yesterday's game with the New York Giants at El Paso, Tex., a spectator approached Satchel and asked for his autograph.

While Satch was signing the fellow said: "You probably don't remember me but I remember you. I pitched against you back in 1921 when you were with the Kansas City Monarchs."

The ramblin' Alabaman just shook his head, but when the man left he turned to Larry Doby and said:

"Man did you hear that lie?"

Mansfield 'Am' Boxers Drop Four of Seven

Mansfield amateur boxers dropped four of seven fights on the Ashland Junior Chamber of Commerce show last night. YMCA boxers split in four bouts and the Friendly House team lost two of three.

Only convincing victory was scored by F.H.'s Lofton Fugue who knocked out Dick Miller of Marion in 1:56 of the first round. The two had staged a toe-to-toe slugfest up until that time.

Two "Y" boys, Dick Hahn and Ray Seymour, won split decisions. Hahn beat Bill Davis, of Marion and Seymour was given the nod over Johnny Chalfant of Akron.

Ulysses Calloway was kayoed by Ashland's Harold Reep for the second time in eight days in the third round. The two met a week ago last night in a F-H show. The other F-H boy, Bill Wilborn, was dropped in 1:55 of the first round by Dick Bonfiglio of Ashland.

Dick James, Marion, knocked out Ted Stevens of the YMCA and Rollin Scott of Ashland won a decision over the Y's Willy Stevens.

Black to Work . . .
LUBBOCK, Tex.—(INS)—Pitcher Don Black of the Cleveland Indians is not going to travel eastward with the Tribe who today meet the New York Giants here in the second of 12 exhibition games.

Black will fly to Marianna, Fla., training base for the Indians' farm clubs, and work out there, Manager Lou Boudreau announced.

"He can't get the right kind of conditioning on the road," Boudreau explained. "He needs a lot of running and throwing to get his strength back."

Black suffered a brain injury during a game last fall. Boudreau says he doubts if Don will see any action before June.

Lopata's promotion drops veteran Andy Seminick to the second-string. Ken Silvestri, a third receiver, also may be retained.

The Phillies are scheduled to meet Montgomery of the Southeastern league for the second straight day today. Last night's contest between the clubs ended in a 2 to 1 victory for Philadelphia.

Suits Put Confusion In Baseball

By TED SMITS
NEW YORK—(AP)—Baseball is more than a game. It is even more than a national institution. It is a ritual, almost a religion.

Not since the Black Sox scandal in 1919-20 has anything serious happened to disturb the serene and sacred flow of this intensely American sport.

But now there is confusion. The players are going through their parts, but they whisper to each other, "What does the Gardella case mean? If there more money in it for me?"

And the club owners say privately, "What if the courts upset the reserve clause? How can we stay in business?"

AWAITED DECISION
The tumult started Feb. 9. On the 17th floor of the 30-story federal courthouse in downtown New York a couple of reporters dropped in on the clerk of the federal court, A. M. Bell, and he said brightly: "There's the decision you've been waiting for."

It was on long, legal-size paper with a red line down the left hand side. It said in effect that justices of the United States courts of appeals for the second district ruled that Danny Gardella could go ahead with his suit for $300,000 damages against organized baseball.

Danny Gardella was a wartime outfielder for the New York Giants. He wasn't so much as a ballplayer, and when in the spring of 1946 he appeared at the training table in a ritzy Florida hotel in decidedly informal attire eyebrows were lifted, words exchanged.

He was told to put on a clean shirt, a tie, and a coat. The next thing anyone knew Danny was down in Mexico playing in the Pasquale Brothers' league, which was considered outlaw from the U. S. viewpoint. No one in the Giant organization gave a hoot.

Along with some really big shots such as Max Lanier and Mickey Owen, who "jumped" to Mexico, Gardella was banned from organized baseball for five years by Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

After the decision of the Court of Appeals that surprised so many people, Lanier and Fred Martin sued organized baseball for $2,500,000, charging that they, too, had been deprived of a means of livelihood.

But Gardella and his lawyer, Frederic A. Johnson, started it.

Show Cause Order Filed

NEW YORK — (INS) — Organized baseball must show cause today why the appeal of Max Lanier and Fred Martin, former pitchers of the St. Louis Cardinals, should not be heard immediately.

Judge Harry B. Chase of the circuit court of appeals signed the show cause order late yesterday when John L. Flynn, attorney for the players, filed notice of appeal from a recent federal court refusal to grant his clients a temporary injunction for reinstatement.

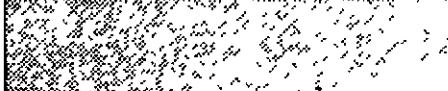

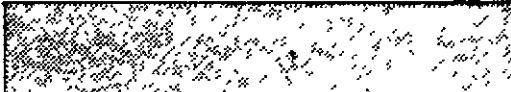

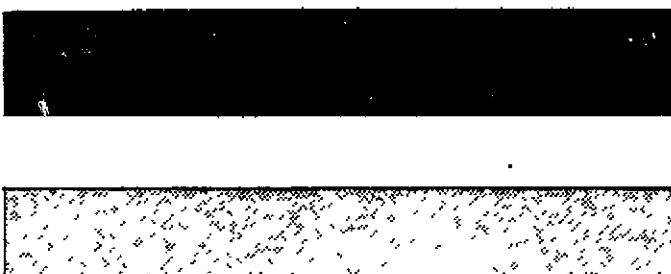

Lanier and Martin, who were banned from baseball for five years for jumping to the Mexican league, are suing organized baseball for $2,500,000.

The bargaining between a club and a player is limited on one side by how badly the club needs the athlete, and on the other by how long the player is willing to hold out without any salary.

In other words, each club "reserves" the players it signs as its private property.

* A club can terminate its contract with a player on written notice by paying 30 days' salary. The player has no such avenue of escape.

ANDERSON, Ind. — (UP) — Mayor James A. Rhodes, of Columbus, O., was awarded the VFW citizenship medal last night for his contributions to amateur athletics. He is national president of the A.A.U.

Two American Boxers Win In British Rings

LONDON — (UP) — Tommy Yarosz, a smooth, clever light heavyweight from Monaca, Pa., and Tony Janiro, a baby-faced slugger from Youngstown, O., today helped America recover some of its lost boxing prestige in Britain.

Both scored upset victories over foreign opponents on the same card at Harringay arena here last night. Yarosz, a polished boxer, punched his way to a 10-round decision over Australia's Dave Sands and Janiro scored an eight-round technical knockout over Gwyn Williams of Wales in another scheduled 10-rounder.

Yarosz received a stirring ovation from the 10,000 fans for his surprising victory over Sands, holder of Australia's middleweight, 118 lb. heavy-weight and heavyweight championships. He did it by hitting oftener and harder and evading most of Sands' lethal wallops.

Twice, however, Yarosz made the mistake of trying to slug it out with Sands and both times was forced to clinch. But the 27-year-old Pennsylvanian was impressive at long range, scoring repeatedly under the Australia's wild-swinging attack with a mixture of left jabs and hooks.

Sands weighed 160 pounds, five less than Yarosz.

Janiro, who forfeited $100 of his purse because he failed to make the weight limit, got off to a slow start but dropped the Welsh welterweight champion four furies before the referee intervened.

Williams, who suffered cuts about the right eye and left, weighed 147. Janiro weighed 153 — one pound over the stipulated limit.

LIGHTS LAST NIGHT
By the Associated Press
LITTLE ROCK — Buddy Scott, 132 Jack-sonville, Fla., outpointed Ragon Kinney, 107, Curvesville, Ark., 10.
CHICAGO — Pat Lombardini, 129, Cincinnati, outpointed Pat Flowers, 126, New York.
WASHINGTON — Doug Ratford, 111, Brooklyn, N. Y., outpointed Roy Andrews, 131, New York.
PHOENIX — Donnie (Pat) Brady, 125, New York outpointed Roy Andrews, 131, New York 10.

Most home runs ever hit by a pitcher in one season were the nine belted by Wes Ferrell with the 1931 Cleveland Indians.

Japs Seek Controlled Birth Rate

Declare Islands Over-Populated

TOKYO — (UP) — The Japanese government finally has come out openly in support of birth control to solve the nation's over-population question, since emigration is not now permitted by the Allied powers.

Being shown nationwide is a short movie subject emphasizing the necessity of birth control and showing contraceptive methods. It is drawing large crowds, most of them, women, throughout the country.

The welfare ministry also has approved the sale of chemical contraceptives effective April 1 to help combat the population problem.

The picture, entitled "Sex and Livelihood," was produced by the Nitto Eiga (motion picture) Company under the direction of the sanitation bureau of the welfare ministry.

The narrator at the outset denounces former Japanese dictator Gen. Hideki Tojo's demand for more babies as a policy for waging aggression. Contrarily, he says that Japan's current population of nearly 80,000,000 is far too much for this country's area and there must be fewer babies born.

Living standards must be elevated if there is to be establishment of a peaceful Japan, the narrator adds. He reiterates that a prerequisite is a smaller population. To back up his claim, he cites Sweden's high standard of living, comparing its population of less than 10,000,000 to Japan's 80,000,000 although the former is larger in area.

The picture says the question of over-population in Japan is not a new one, pointing that the lives of newly-born babies were snuffed out at one period of the Tokugawa era, which lasted 300 years before "Modern Japan."

Of course, it does not advocate this practice in modern times. The picture then shows a birth control lecture given to farmers in a remote mountain village. A farmer's wife says babies are "Gifts of God" and asks if it would not be sacrilegious to deny their birth.

Man Honest, Loses Money

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. — (UP) — The cost of a clear conscience for George O. Welch was $10,773. Welch received a check for that amount in the mail. It was made out to George Welch.

Welch was advised that his legal right to cash the check was solid but, realizing he had no moral claim to the money, he started a search for the other George Welch.

He located George W. Welch, for whom the money was intended. George W. definitely had use for the check. Unemployed after a cerebral hemorrhage two years ago, he used part of the money to pay off a mortgage on his home.

Finds Novel Way To Time Waiting

GARDNER, Mass. — (UP) — Police Chief Cyrille Leblanc says one resident of this chair city is delighted with the newly-installed parking meters.

It seems the man often meets his wife downtown but she's always a few minutes late. Never admits it, though.

So her husband now meets her near a parking meter, dropping in a few pennies when he reaches the rendezvous. When his wife arrives late there's no argument. He merely points to the time ticked off by the meter.

ASKS FOR PAY CUT

WESTPORT, Mass. — (UP) — At his request, Town Clerk Edward L. Macomber's annual salary was reduced from $800 to $350.

March Was Dry, Chilly, Records Show

Although Mansfielders complained about unseasonably cold weather last month, the records show that average maximum and minimum temperatures during the month varied little from those of March, 1948.

The average maximum temperature last month was 46 and the average minimum temperature 39. During the same month last year, an average maximum of 48 and an average minimum of 27 were recorded.

However, last month was much drier than the same month in 1948. Nearly two inches more rainfall were recorded in March 1948, than in the same month this year.

Total precipitation for March, 1949, was 2.7 inches, compared with 4.6 inches during March, 1948.

Mention of Christ's Name Saves 12 From Firing Squad

MORGAN CITY, La. — (UP) — Four little French girls, four women and four men stood in a meadow just outside of the little village of La-Salle in southern France.

Twelve tough-looking Nazi soldiers faced them, rifles at their shoulders. They grinned and waited for a word from their lieutenant that would send bullets crashing into their victims. But that word was never uttered. One of the condemned—a slender, dark-haired young man—spoke a few words in German to the leader of the Nazi storm shooters.

To a man, the 12 seasoned Nazi veterans laid down their guns and refused to shoot.

And that to the Rev. Herbert

Stelnschneider, the slender man who uttered those life-saving words, it was nothing less than a miracle, the first of two he said he saw in the dark days of the occupation of France by the Germans.

What did he say?
He said in German: "I am a Protestant minister. In the name of Jesus Christ and the Gospel, I protest the inhuman slaying of innocent women and children."

"I had not the slightest idea that those words would stay the hands of the Nazi soldiers," he said. "I had no thought that they would heed a plea in the name of Christ.

"But they did, and that's the miracle."

The second miracle he said, occurred a few minutes after the first.

As the 12 reprieved sat around in a circle in the meadow there came a fusillade of shots from two different directions.

They were caught between two firing lines. French resistance forces had circled around and were shooting at them, taking them for Nazis. The Germans who were about to be surrounded were shooting across them at the French troops.

One of the little band of survivors was wounded seriously and five others suffered minor wounds.

About that time, German reinforcements arrived and the fighting broke out in earnest. During the five-hour battle, the 12 crawled into a nearby wooded area and escaped.

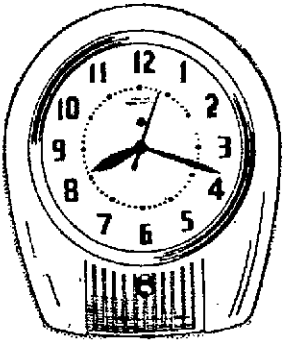

Today, Stelnschneider is using his "two miracles" in his preaching at the Atkinson Memorial Presbyterian Church in Morgan City.

State Boosts Local Government Allocation to Richland

'48 Funds Increased To $270,807

Ohio Chamber Releases Report

Richland county received $288,559 from the state in local government monies in 1948, compared with $270,807 for the previous year, a research report prepared by the Ohio Chamber of Commerce — showed today. The report gives a summary of state grants and allocations of funds to local governments in 1948 and 1947.

While the 1947 grant was in sales tax money only the 1948 figure included $115,404 in sales tax money and $173,155 in intangibles tax money.

The latter allocation included proceeds of state intangibles tax on deposits, shares in, and capital employed by financial institutions and dealers in intangibles.

Grand total payments from the state of Richland county totaled $1,897,784 last year.

Allocations for Richland county under the state's school foundation program last year totaled $1,006,259, compared with $832,056 in 1947. These figures did not include payment's outside the foundation program from appropriations of $2,000,000 for school rehabilitation and a like amount for school bus purchases in 1947-48. Deductions for teachers' and employees' retirement are included.

$14,144 FOR HANDICAPPED
For special classes for deaf, blind and crippled children, Richland county received $14,144 in 1947. The figures for 1948 were not given for individual counties.

The vocational education program received $7,540 in 1947 and a like appropriation for 1948. Interest on irreducible debt for school districts was $2,334 for 1947 and estimated at $2,334 for 1948. The state is pledged to pay six per cent on the proceeds of the original sale of federal lands which were granted for the support of the schools. This fixed payment is made annually to school districts where such lands were originally sold.

Library aid in 1947 totaled $323 with a similar appropriation for 1948. Poor relief financial aid was $108,566 for 1947. Estimated payments were not listed by individual counties for 1948.

The aid to dependent children, crippled children and needy blind programs received $43,430 in 1947, with no estimated amounts for 1948 listed. Old age pensions to County Home residents totaled $357 in 1947 and as estimated $714 in 1948.

The appropriation for the health district was $4,898 in 1947 and a like estimate for 1948. Aid for the care of tuberculosis patients totaled $7,229 in 1947. Estimated payments for 1948 were not listed. State allocations for roads in the county totaled $528,027 in 1947 while

155 Attend Youth Rally

A total of 155 confirmands were present at the rally in the First Lutheran church at Crestline Sunday afternoon, when Lutheran churches of the area sponsored a conference for young people who will be confirmed this spring.

Besides the 155 confirmands, there were 14 pastors, 32 intermediates and 90 visitors, including the choir, present for the worship and fellowship service.

Rev. John G. Gensel, pastor of the St. Paul Lutheran church here, spoke to the confirmands on the subject, "Keeping Alive the Sacred Flame of the Consecrated God."

Rev. Gensel pointed out to the young people that they must be very careful not to forget about God in their private lives.

the estimated aid for 1948 amounted to $569,738.

FEES TOTAL $73,708

Liquor permit fees money returned totaled $73,708 in 1947 and the estimate for 1948 was the same figure. Salaries for common pleas and juvenile judges salaries amounted to $3,375 for 1947 and the appropriation for 1948 provided $4,500. The county pays the rest of the judges salaries.

Transportation and criminal costs aid totaled $961 in 1947 while estimates for 1948 was not listed according to individual counties.

Ohio Chamber president C. I. Weaver said the report, entitled "State Aids to Local Government Financing" was designed to aid the General Assembly in its consideration of the state's biennial budget to be submitted this week to the legislature by Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

Total state subsidies to all local subdivisions and public schools in 1947 amounted to $175,408,057, compared with $201,353,827 in 1948, an increase of $25,945,770, or 14.8 per cent, the Chamber said.

Because of increases annually in aid and grants, Weaver said, the Ohio Chamber's board has pointed to the analysis as proof that Ohio is now nationally in the forefront in state-subsidization of local government.

57 Perish In Illinois Hospital Fire

9 Infants Are Among Victims

leaped from windows, authorities said.

Firemen said all of the newborn babies in the nursery perished. It was not known how many were there, but the nursery was equipped to handle 30 infants. The flames finally subsided after three hours. Brick and mortar walls had collapsed into the basement, and only the skeleton framework of the main section of the building was left standing.

The operating room in a separate wing was the only section of the building left undamaged.

Residents of the neighborhood ran into the flaming building and carried out some of the patients. Joseph Brummer, whose 12-year-old daughter, Doris, was in the hospital with a broken leg, groped through the smoke-filled corridors in a fruitless search for her.

"I got so far," he said, "and then the smell of burning flesh got me."

He fainted and was carried from the building.

Outside, witnesses could hear the screams of the trapped patients.

Firemen, nurses and volunteers broke into a storeroom for mattresses, spread them beneath the windows outside and pleaded with the patients to jump.

Orville Young, Louisville, Ill., a patient on the first floor, was going to get a drink of water when a nurse told him the building was on fire. He leaped from a window to safety. He was joined by William Pierson, also of Louisville. Patients rescued from the flames were carried to neighboring homes and to a first aid station set up in a garage and boiler room 100 yards to the rear of the main building.

There, Catholic sisters assigned to the hospital administered first aid.

William Esch, a commercial photographer, said he saw three women leap from the top floor. He could not get close enough to the flames, he said, to learn whether they were killed. "I could hear the people trapped inside screaming," Esch said. Witnesses said they could hear explosions inside the building, and state police said they were other tanks going up.

Fire-fighting apparatus from six surrounding towns hastened to the burning building. Witnesses said they were hindered by low water pressure in the mains, however, and that there was a 15 minute delay in getting streams of water playing on the burning building.

Sees Church As Hope of Civilization

Ohio Wesleyan Head
Talks to Pastors

"Civilization can be saved but only when Christ and His Church are made the really effective medium through which the Christian ideals are reached," Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, Ohio Wesleyan university president, told members of the Richland County Ministerial association yesterday.

The pastors heard Dr. Flemming outline the things which the Church must do to reach this goal. He said there must be definite and understood objectives toward which the Church is working. Under this point, Dr. Flemming said, there must be a clear understanding of the promotion of Christian fellowship and evangelism, particularly personal evangelism.

"Why are laymen not willing to sit down with men and talk with them about Christ?" Dr. Flemming asked. "Perhaps one of the reasons is that they do not clearly understand the objectives and the purpose of the church."

Dr. Flemming emphasized that the realization of the local church to the Church at large or the total work of the church must be clearly understood.

NEED UNITY
"The churches, by pooling their resources, can render a service not possible by churches working separately," he said.

"The church must develop a program designed to achieve these objectives; specific duties must be assigned and allocated to reach the objectives. And there must be a recruiting of the best men and women to carry out the program."

Bishop G. D. Batdorf, who this week is preaching at the First Evangelical UB church, conducted the devotions and urged unity of the church.

Mansfield Astronomer Ready For Sky Show

Builds Camera to Photograph Eclipse April 12

By NITA BRANSON

When the shadow of the earth covers the moon in an eclipse April 12, it will be photographed in Mansfield with a "celestial" camera which is similar to one being used by Harvard scientists in New Mexico.

The camera to be used here was made by W. Val Isham, amateur astronomer and chemist at the Tappan Stove company, who has "fooled around" with astronomy for a number of years. The big camera, which he invented, weighs about 100 pounds. It is driven by an electrical clock made by Norman Richmond of Shelby, another amateur in the science of stargazing.

Between now and April 12, the amateur astronomers of this area, numbering about 10, expect to photograph the moon in its various stages. Then on the night of the eclipse they expect to gather with telescopes and Isham's big camera at the Shelby golf course to do some heaven-gazing, Isham said.

The eclipse will first be seen about 9:28 p. m., Isham said, and it will continue until 2 a. m. During this time, the moon will change in color from orange to a deep brown.

When Isham aims the big camera at the moon, he will expose the film for two seconds, shut it off for five minutes, then repeat the process for about two hours. At the end of that time, he'll have a series of pictures of the moon showing the different stages of eclipse.

LENS STARTED IT

Isham has been working on the big camera since January, 1948. At that time, he was given a five-inch lens and then began "fooling around" with his drawing board, trying to design a new type of camera. When he had it completed, he discovered in the Sky and Telescope magazine a similar one being used by the scientists of Harvard observatory for some pretty delicate observation work in New Mexico.

In his study of amateur astronomy, Isham confers with his good friends, Dr. J. Allen Hynek of the Perkins observatory, Delaware, and Leo Schoenig of Pittsburgh, who teaches boys at the Buhl Planetarium there.

"I got a lot of help and good advice from Leo," Isham said. "And I hope with my new camera to do some celestial photography for Dr. Hynek."

When the eclipse shows on April 12, it will be the first time in three years that North and South America will see a total eclipse. The eclipse will occur simultaneously throughout the hemisphere but it will not be visible from the west coast at the beginning because it will still be daylight.

"Moon eclipses can happen only when the moon is full," scientists said, "eclipse of the sun only when the moon is new."

Claims American Bombs Sabotaged

BERLIN — (U) — A German demolition engineer says he has evidence that bombs dropped on Berlin from American planes during the war failed to explode because they had been sabotaged in American factories.

The engineer, Werner Stephan, is civilian chief of the Berlin bomb squad. He said yesterday he has found 125 American dud bombs which showed evidence of having been sabotaged and that his men have found many more.

7 Attend Convention

Four Mansfield men and three from the Mansfield area will attend the annual convention of Farm Bureau Insurance companies in Columbus Wednesday and Thursday.

The Mansfielders include C. I. Hostetter, Vance Clever, W. H. Newcomer, and Clair Kirchofer. W. C. Price, Shelby; Charles Resseger, Plymouth; and S. M. Mishey, Bellville, will attend from the area.

The first day of the convention will consist of a sales day program for representatives of the companies. Thursday there will be an annual meeting of the firms, Farm Bureau Mutual, Automobile Insurance company, Farm Bureau Mutual Fire Insurance company, and Farm Bureau Life Insurance company.

Jewels Stolen, She's Leaving

LOS ANGELES — (U) — Theft of jewels she valued at $434,000 has convinced wealthy Mrs. Eugenia Clair Smith that Los Angeles is not a healthy place for her.

"I'm getting out of here," the Reno, Nev., widow of Coffee Magnate William Edgar Smith told police. "I'm afraid the burglars might come back and I fear for our safety." She said she still has jewels valued at more than $1,500,000.

Dog Bites Boy

Virgil Griffin Xander, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Xander, 174 East Sixth street, was bitten on the left hand yesterday by a dog, police reported. Police told the owner to keep the dog confined for 10 days for observation.

Pastor to Speak on Boy, Girl Relationships at Assembly

Rev. Edward Rydman, minister to youth at the First Community church, Columbus, will speak at a Senior high school assembly next Friday morning and at a youth banquet that evening.

Rev. Rydman will discuss "Boy-Girl Relationships" at the assembly which is being jointly sponsored by the Blue Tri clubs of the YWCA and the hi-Y clubs of the YMCA.

He will speak that evening on "Courtship and Marriage" at a banquet for all Hi-Y and Blue Tri members. The banquet will be held at the Park Avenue Baptist church at 6 p. m.

During the afternoon Rev. Rydman will hold scheduled conferences with high school students.

Members of the general committee planning the banquet include Ginger Brownfield, Elaine Hartley, Tina Taylor, Philip Bolin, and Thomas Swisher. Bolin also will serve as master of ceremonies.

Martha Shiplet and Dave Stanton are co-chairman of the program committee.

Tickets for the banquet may be obtained from Hi-Y and Blue Tri club treasurers.

THE POPULAR

SYSTEM OF

"More-for-your-Money"

America is the land of More-for-your-Money.

Today when you get into your car you get more miles per dollar on your tires, more miles per gallon on your gasoline, more luxury per hour out of the car itself.

And do you know why?

It's a "system." The American System of free opportunity—of free incentive. If there were no opportunity for profit there would be no incentive for business and no way to make the investments in wells, refineries, and delivery systems that are bringing you the 50% more petroleum products needed today over prewar.

Frankly, another duty of the management of this company is to earn money for the investors who risk their savings in it. When we pay dividends we are only "paying our rent" on the money we are using.

To earn this profit we must attract customers. The only way we know to do this is to give you good value for your dollar, to price our products so fairly within market conditions that you will not want to buy anywhere else.

When we make a profit we do it by making driving and living more economical for you. It's the "system."

Is it a bad system?

Here's Full Report On Evictions

New Regulations Are Summarized

WASHINGTON — A new set of nationwide regulations outline steps landlords must take if they want to evict tenants. Rent administrator Tighe E. Woods established the rules over the weekend under the new "home rule" rent control act. They spell out how and when a landlord may act and also provide safeguards for tenants against unwarranted evictions.

Under the old law eviction control was entirely in the hands of local authorities.

Woods listed the following grounds for eviction and the time in which a tenant must vacate after receiving his landlord's notice to move:

1. Non-payment of rent—not less than three days
2. Violation of "substantial obligation of tenancy," such as conducting a business in part of the premises contrary to the rental contract—not less than 10 days
3. Nuisance—not less than 10 days
4. Refusing access to landlord to inspect premises or to show it to a prospective purchaser—one month's notice
5. If tenant sublets the dwelling unit and lease expires or is otherwise terminated—not less than two months
6. If a state or political subdivision acquires the housing accommodations to make a public improvement, but wishes to rent them temporarily pending construction of new project—notice period not less than two months
7. If tenant occupies part of company housing development customarily limited to employees, but no longer works for the company—notice period of not less than two months.

A landlord may sue for eviction if a tenant fails to obey a notice in the above cases. When the landlord sues, he must give written notice to the area unit rent office stating the title of the case, the court in which it is filed, the name and address of the tenant and the ground for eviction.

A second category of grounds for eviction requires issuance of a certificate to the landlord by an area rent office. Once he has a certificate the landlord then may take whatever steps a necessary under local laws to obtain possession of his property. These are the grounds on which such certificates may be asked:

1. If the landlord is also the title owner and wants to occupy the dwelling himself or let his "immediate family" use it, he must show that such action is taken in "good faith." The tenant is allowed three months to vacate. Then the landlord may take such steps as local laws permit.
2. Alterations or remodeling—the landlord must show proof that such changes cannot be made with the tenant in occupancy. In these cases, the tenant is given three months to vacate.

3. If the property owner is a tax-exempt organization, such as a religious, educational or charitable group, and wishes to use the accommodations to house its staff, the tenant is given three months in which to vacate.

A landlord under the regulations may withdraw his property from the rental market if "he seeks in good faith" to (A) convert it to permanent commercial use by substantial alterations (B) personally use it permanently for non-housing purposes, or (C) keep it idle permanently without any intention of sale. A tenant in this case would have six months to get out.

Foreign Minister Says Turkey Would Resist Russian Troops

LONDON — (INS) — Turkish Foreign Minister Necmeddin Sadak said today that any Soviet attempt to send troops into Turkey "even in pursuit of an imperialist aggressor" would be regarded as an act of aggression and would be resisted.

Sadak made his statement in answer to a questionnaire submitted by International News Service while he was in London enroute to New York for the opening of the United Nations general assembly.

The Turkish foreign minister said that his nation desires friendship with all countries, including Soviet Russia.

He pointed out, however, that it was the Soviets who denounced the Turkish-Soviet friendship treaty after the Truman doctrine of aid to Turkey came into effect.

Sadak denied reports that Russia has warned Turkey against participation in any possible future Mediterranean pact modeled on the lines of the North Atlantic Defense treaty.

He inferentially urged Turkey's participation in the council of Europe, now composed of most western European nations.

The questions put to Sadak and his answers follow:

Q — Would any attempt by Soviet Russia to send troops into Turkey even "in pursuit of an imperialist aggressor" be regarded as an act of aggression and resisted?

A — Without any doubt.

Q — Is it Turkey's desire to maintain and develop friendly relations with all countries, including the USSR?

A — Turkey desires to maintain friendly relations with all countries within the framework of her policy, which is based strictly on her independence and her national integrity.

Q — In the event the Soviets proposed a non-aggression pact with Turkey, would Turkey be willing to conclude it?

A — It was Soviet Russia who renounced the treaty of friendship existing between the two countries.

Q — It is reported that Soviet Russia made inquiries and sought assurances in Ankara regarding possible Turkish participation in a Mediterranean pact. The reports say that Turkey informed Russia that such a pact would be purely defensive for which reason Turkey intends to participate if invited is this correct?

A — The Soviet government made no approach to Ankara.

Q — In the event that Soviet Russia made an approach such as has been made to Norway, what would Turkey's attitude be?

A — The policy of Turkey already is clearly known to the whole world.

Q — What is Turkey's attitude toward the council of Europe? Do you think it should not be confined to the west and that Turkey should be invited to participate in forming the council's constitution?

A — We believe it is for Europe's vital interests not to divide her again into two parts by making arrangements limited only to the western half.

Must Pay Tax On Its Big Stadium

Cleveland Held Liable For Levy

COLUMBUS — (AP) — The state board of tax appeals yesterday upheld the Cuyahoga county auditor in his decision to place the Cleveland Municipal stadium and four adjacent parking lots on the tax list in 1948.

Kept on Cuyahoga county tax duplicates by the board's decision, are Cleveland Municipal stadium, and parking lots Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4.

"It is the judgment of the board of tax appeals," the decision read, "that the city of Cleveland in the operation of its Municipal stadium is engaged in a private competitive business for a profit, and that the county auditor did not err in returning the property to the tax duplicate."

The decision likewise pointed out that parking lots Nos. 3 and 4 "are not used for any public purpose, but are let to the Lederer Terminal Warehouse company under a five-year term lease at a rental of $28,500, and are privately used."

The board likewise ruled against parking lots 1 and 2 because for 100 days a year they are let to a private parking concern.

The application for exemption of the property from taxation came from the City of Cleveland. The city asked the exemption and complained of the county auditor's act in restoring the property to the tax duplicate. The property had been tax exempt through 1947.

In commenting on certain other city properties restored to tax exemption, the board said they were "Used exclusively for a public purpose and are entitled to exemption from taxation."

Cleveland's Municipal stadium was built in 1932 at a cost of about $2,500,000. Twice it has been rehabilitated. The original cost and two repair jobs were financed by general revenue bonds.

In 1948, the stadium realized a profit "thanks to champion baseball and football teams," the board observed.

Gross income derived by city was $571,000. Total rentals were $225,284; food concessions $292,760. The stadium commissioner said the structure earned a net profit of $129,339.45.

The assistant Cleveland finance director testified in a hearing before the board that the stadium would not have shown a profit if depreciation and debt interest had been included.

"The character and operation of the stadium is clearly not a governmental operation but a proprietary one. It competes with other communities for athletic contests, games and conventions, such as Army, Navy and Notre Dame appearances," the decision said.

Applesed Students Learn Of Senior High Subjects

By JANET NEAL and JANISE SMITH

Dr Edwin A. Fensch was present at a recent meeting of the ninth grade class at Johnny Applesed Junior high school to tell the ninth graders about signing up for Senior High school subjects.

Pamphlets were distributed, explaining the various courses. The actual signing up for tenth grade subjects will take place this week.

The girls' basketball intramurals are going right along. In a game played this week, Room 103 defeated Room 109 by the score of 14-6. Nancy Ward led 103's scoring with six points, while Janet Smith scored all of 109's six points.

Many girls have signed up to take golf lessons at school under the direction of Mrs. Jerome Rosenberg.

This spring will find the girls' gym classes playing softball outside, and when the weather is bad, doing tumbling and taking part in other competitive sports inside.

The familiar face of Miss Helen Herring, art teacher, has been seen in the halls again after her prolonged absence.

The ninth grade girls' ensemble will present a program of singing for a group from the St. Luke's Lutheran church Thursday. Members of this ensemble are Mary Benson, Janet Neal, Carolyn Miller, Nancy Wolf, Edythe York, Bernina Rehberg, and Genevieve Hartig. Accompanist for this group is Joyce Chamberlain.

Spring football training is being held now. Returning lettermen are Darce Shasky, Bob Diemer, and Ned Diemer.

Amvets To Meet

BELLEVILLE — All officers of Amvet Post No. 43 here are urged to attend the 8 p. m. Thursday meeting in the Community house as important matters are slated for discussion. It was announced today by William Robinson, commander of the post.

Giant Treasure Hunt Closing $300 Million In War Loot Returned

By GEORGE BRIA

BERLIN — (AP) — The United States is about to write fine lines of the Great Treasure Hunts of history.

Unlike most treasure hunts this one came up with the gold—as well as machinery, horses and living root sets.

It went under the name of restitution.

In January 1943 most of the United Nations served notice in a London communique that they would reclaim the loot seized by the Nazis in their mad rampage over Europe.

When the war ended the big search started. In the American zone of Germany alone, 21,000 claims were filed. A staff of 60 Americans and 300 Germans was organized to weed them out and till the bill whenever possible.

The big job is to end for many a year the long list of claims.

Up to the end of January nearly 300,000,000 marks worth of loot had been returned to the Allies.

Up to the end of January nearly 300,000,000 marks worth of loot had been returned to the Allies.

United For Self-Preservation

TODAY—for better or worse—the United States of America has nullified the stand against “entangling alliances” voiced by George Washington in his farewell address, and, for the first time in its 173-year history, this nation is pledged to a peace-time military alliance with like-thinking European powers.

True, the North Atlantic Pact, signed in Washington yesterday afternoon, is subject to approval by a two-thirds vote in the United States Senate—but that action is anticipated despite differences of opinion that have already been expressed on some of the terms of the treaty as agreed upon by the twelve participating nations.

Purpose of this alliance, which binds together 350 million people for mutual defense against aggression, is “for the preservation of peace and security,” and while no specific potential foe is mentioned there is no concealing the fact that chief danger is seen in the course being pursued by Soviet Russia in its efforts to impose a communist dictatorship in all of Europe and eventually throughout the world.

Opposition of Russia to the alliance of nations representing the principles of democracy and individual freedom may well be regarded as an important element in justifying such a unifying of potential strength against further aggressive steps by that country.

It was said by Secretary of State Acheson yesterday that the treaty was drawn “for the guidance of men, whether well or ill disposed. . . . For those who seek peace it is a guide to refuge and strength. . . . For those who set their feet upon the path of aggression, it is a warning that if it must needs be that offenses come, then woe unto them by whom the offense comes.”

It is stated—as clearly as possible—that the agreements entered into are not directed at any one nation and President Truman denounced Russian charges that the treaty is an “aggressive act.” Instead, he hailed it as “a long step toward permanent peace in the whole world.”

Now that the momentous Pact has been signed, and its effects awaited, attention turns to the meeting of the United Nations General Assembly, which opens in New York today with 58 member nations represented—including Russia—and there is a very real danger that the explosive situation that has been developed within what is called the “United Nations” will be further aggravated by continuance of obstructive tactics on the part of Soviet spokesmen.

Americans, and their newly-pledged associates under the North Atlantic treaty, need be shown to their complete satisfaction that, in the honest opinion of those charged with great responsibility, the present course is the one best designed to assure against an atomic war, with its unimaginable devastation—for it is the preservation of peace that stands as the prime objective in the minds of the people of this country, which has now been projected into world leadership in the “cold war” against communistic aggression.

Young Democratic Club In Action

WHILE LACKING the incentive of primary contests for mayor or other city offices except councilmen, the Richland County Young Democratic club is showing pre-primary activity by planning a Jefferson day dinner to be held Tuesday, April 19, with Mayor Thomas Burke of Cleveland as the speaker.

Also there is to be an “open house” at Democratic headquarters Saturday afternoon, April 9, to give opportunity for voters to get acquainted with Democratic candidates in the May 3 primaries.

Such show of interest by young members of both political parties is commendable, as maintenance of the two-party system of choosing public officials makes it necessary to develop leadership in the younger age groups—with constant emphasis on the importance of “getting out the vote” at both primaries and general elections.

Unified Germany Seen as Outcome

“I BELIEVE eastern and western Germany will unite. I do not think anyone can stop it.”

These are the words of Ernest Bevin, British foreign secretary. He was not pulling a random idea out of a hat, but expressing the thought of keen students of Europe and its peoples.

It was only the German government that was crushed by Allied armies, not the people. They are a tenaciously nationalist people. This is a point which the Allies now quarrelling over the future of Germany might well keep in mind.

Passing around, of course, in connection with the strike of brewery workers in New York, is the explanation that “workers and management find themselves at loggerheads.”

Latest report from Paris is that Rita Hayworth and Prince Aly Khan expect to be married within a month—if anyone cares to know.

Western Europe Again Major Problem

By J. C. OESTREICHER

WESTERN GERMANY, first bankrupted by Adolf Hitler and then crippled by allied bombardment, emerges as Europe's major problem again with signing of the North Atlantic Defense Pact.

For Soviet Russia, obviously baffled as to the best and most effective means of combating the great alliance from the viewpoints of prestige and propaganda, has singled out Germany as her whipping-boy.

Not unexpectedly, she revived and amplified the charge that the western allies intend to expand the Atlantic Pact by under-cover rearmament of Germany and that country's eventual inclusion in the agreement itself.

The rapid changes that have taken place in the general European set-up since Soviet Russia embarked upon a course certain to alienate the western powers make it appear that this now will be the major facet of Kremlin propaganda.

The Russians always have presented the stand that their policy in Europe is based solely upon determination that Germany militarism never will be allowed to rise again.

They maintain against the arguments of all doubters that this is the guiding—even the sole—aim of the bi-lateral treaties that have brought the satellite nations of the east into their orbit.

They cited the fact that these bi-lateral agreements contain specific clauses listing as enemies of the Soviet Union any and all nations assisting Germany in any real or potential aggression against Moscow.

The stipulation then becomes vague and timeless, with interpretation depending upon many factors including, to be sure, the attitude of Russia itself which has chosen to look upon any revival of western Europe as a dagger against Russia's heart.

In this connection, it is noteworthy that the Soviets complained because they were not invited to join the North Atlantic Union.

But at the same time they condemn collective security blocs, citing their own system of individual agreements with neighbor nations as a better alternative. They gloss over entirely existence of the cominform, an exclusive aggregation of pro-communists if there ever was one.

For the moment, and as of today, the north Atlantic pact is a solid instrument committing all the democratic nations to fight if need be in case of attack upon any one of them.

Its far-reaching ramifications, evident to most observers from the outset, began to make themselves felt when the first pen was put to paper at the massive state department in Washington.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Truman's Choice of Men For Big Jobs

PRESIDENT TRUMAN is said to have complained bitterly to members of the Hoover Commission that he is having a hard time getting good men to take big jobs in his government. If this be true, it is unfortunate for him and for the country.

It is strange, however, considering the fact that he is a freshly inaugurated President and can offer nearly four years of tenure and an opportunity to work with a Congress which at least bears the same party label as the chief executive.

The situation cannot be blamed entirely upon the salary schedule, because other presidents have had that handicap and have done better in their selections than has Truman.

A very successful governor of a state once said that the secret of a good chief executive is to persuade $50,000-men to work in government for $10,000. And that particular governor was able to do just that.

Perhaps the trouble lies with the President himself. He is evidently a man who cannot select his appointees confidently unless he has known them closely for a long time.

He has an affinity for old cronies. He has filled highly important positions with people with no particular qualifications for their jobs, just because he likes to have them around. And then he is hurt because they fail to impress the public with their brilliance or competence.

Mediocre Selections.

THE MARK of a great executive is his capacity to pick strangers successfully. He develops a means of finding out about people, of discovering budding talent among young and comparatively unknown men, of checking on their qualifications and of weighing the data he assembles.

A great executive also has a means of checking against his own prejudices and predilections. He has to learn how to trust and understand people whom he has not known.

Since the President seems to lack this ability, his appointments, especially since the beginning of his new term, have not been inspiring.

Farmer's Diary

To Our Granddaughter

By CALVIN A. BYERS

DEAR SUSAN:

By the time this reaches you, you will be 10 weeks old and weigh nearly 12 pounds. We have missed you so much, since you went with your parents to keep the town house while your father's mother wintered in Florida. I have tried three times to write to you, like this, and each time your Grandma Byers censored me out of it. She claims I will prove to be just a doting grandparent, and my readers will be bored.

If you and I don't care, why should they? Babies do not keep—they change so fast and they mean so much, and besides, lots of other men feel just like I do! The touch of a granddaughter's little grasping fist does something to a man's heart. I'm sorry that your other grandpa did not live to love you as I do. You slept last night, in the couch corner here at home while we ate our supper. You were ruset and pink and golden, and your plump knees showed when you kicked the shawl away. I hadn't seen you for two weeks. You'd changed. They say your head is shaped like mine. Perhaps we have something in common. But your first hair, ruset-gold, is wearing away and your eyelashes have grown long and dark now. Your eyes, too, are grayer than formerly; changing child!

I am glad to see that the new formula agrees with you so well. You are firm and fair, with a healthy rosy tan. They tell me you sleep all night without waking. Now that's fine! Nights were made for sleep. If more people stayed home and slept, of nights, it would be a good thing.

The bluebirds are back and have been flying about your parents' blue and silver house trailer in the plum orchard. I guess you helped a lot, to celebrate their first wedding anniversary, on St. Patrick's Day, didn't you?

I can hardly wait until you are old enough to go along on some little walks, as your mother did, when she was a very small girl.

I shall want you to have the first fruits from the orchard trees that I planted myself. Some will begin bearing this year. I know they will make you laugh—and you and I will get our faces dirty and enjoy ourselves something wonderful.

Peach trees will soon bloom. Plum and apple trees, too. I hope you'll be back here to stay when it's garden-making time. I hope you'll have a few freckles. There'll be little chicks, pigs, lambs and calves. . . . but we'll be happier with our baby than anything!

As always,

GRANDPA.

Dave Boone Says:

I WOULDN'T say the public went crazy getting back into the stock market with the entry rules eased up. Maybe two decades of Washington's effort to picture Wall Street as a private club has taken away the yen to get in.

And it's just possible the average man won't want to take a chance on anything as solid and secure as the industries of America. He's had too many years of those radio giveaway and jackpot programs.

Also, he was sort of encouraged to believe that if he was ever to make any money it would be better for him to get it that way.

With margins made reasonable, installment buying rules eased up generally, and high prices dropping here and there, America is beginning to remind people of America again.

What Some Other People Are Saying

BRITISH PRIME MINISTER CLEMENT ATTLEE, marking the first anniversary of the European Recovery Act: "During the last year the whole economic scene of western Europe has been transformed to a degree which must astonish all of us when we recall the uncertainties and perils of the immediate preceding years. This . . . is due to the generosity and far-sightedness of the people and government of the United States."

DR. RALPH E. LAPP, scientist attached to the research and development division of the Army's general staff: "If one coldly analyzes the use to which (atom) bombs can be put in time of war and one considers that other nations will be the same type of weapons then it is apparent that our military position is actually weakened."

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Property of Pressman's Union Misused

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Locked in the files of the treasury and justice departments is startling evidence that would help the Pressman's Union clear up a serious scandal, new union members know about the situation inside their union, which, if not remedied, may cheat them out of a lot of hard-earned dues.

The secret evidence pertains to the income-tax violation of the late George Berry, head of the Pressman's Union, and ex-senator from Tennessee.

Berry, guilty of income-tax violation, refused to defend himself, was given one year in jail, which a lenient judge later commuted to five years on parole.

Before one year had passed Berry died, leaving a will which pulled on his own union.

Had the government been able to try the case in open court, these frauds would have been aired publicly and union members could have taken corrective steps. But Berry, afraid of a public trial, threw himself on the mercy of the court.

However, this column has been able to obtain details of the tragic finagling which Berry pulled not only against the government, but his own union.

Two Mrs. Berries.

BERRY'S will reveals that he left parts of property which supposedly belonged to the union to two Mrs. Berries. One was his own wife. The other was a mysterious Mrs. Alva N. Berry, who was supported by Berry on one of his farms and with whom Berry spend part of his latter years.

To Mrs. Alva Berry and her two children, who also bore the name Berry, he left the farm on which she lived, plus the Mooresburg Milling Co., a part of another farm, 15 shares of the Citizens Union Bank in Rogersville, Tenn., valued at more than $15,000, and most important of all, part of the stock in the International Playing Card and Label company.

This playing-card company, supposedly belonging to the Pressman's Union and a valuable property, was willed by Berry not to the union, but to the two Mrs. Berries and his close associates.

Mrs. Berry, the wife, was given part of the playing-card company. Miss Dailey, Berry's secretary, also was willed a part; together with Berry's attorney, John S. McClellan; and A. H. Pfiffner and C. H. Geigert, the manager and superintendent of the plant.

Yet the playing-card company was property which belonged to the union and which Berry had no right to give away.

Weird Bookkeeping.

DURING the government's probe of Berry's income taxes, some peculiar things came to light regarding the union head's dealings with his union. Among other things, he had taken $50,000 out of the playing-card company's treasury to buy cattle for his own farm.

The government also found that he submitted double expense accounts—one to the union and one to the playing-card company.

Thus, when the union chief took a trip, he was reimbursed for his expenses twice—once by the Pressman's Union and again by the playing-card company which the Pressman's Union owned.

When treasury agents began digging into Berry's accounts, he claimed that he had invested large sums of his own money in the playing-card company and that sums paid him were to reimburse him for these advances. However, when asked to show proof, all he could produce was $100,000 advanced to the company. Yet on the basis of this and other mythical "advances" Berry had taken over the entire plant as his own.

What Will Union Do?

WHEN it came to making out his will, Berry concocted another interesting scheme. He contended that the playing-card company owed him $223,927.34 in back salary and expenses. Thereupon he proceeded to distribute this back salary to his wife, and the other Mrs. Berry (who, incidentally, received more than his wife), to his niece, his secretary and other friends. If any of this back salary remained after these gifts and after paying federal taxes, Berry specified in his will that it go to a welfare fund.

It would appear highly doubtful, however, that the playing-card company ever owed Berry "back salary and expenses," since he collected his expenses double, and made heavy drawings from the company during his life.

Obviously the great majority of union members were in no position to know anything about these inner workings of their union. But an interesting question is why the union's executive council did not know about them. Or, knowing them now, why they do not act to protect the rights of the union and clean up the mess. Most interesting of all, however, will be to see what the union executives do now.

Note — Present executives of the Pressman's Union are: J. H. de la Rosa, president; W. H. McHugh, sec.-treas.; Charles V. Ernest, A. J. Andrade, Fred Maxted and George Gooze. (Copyright, 1949)

Texas Grows 'Em Big

By INEZ ROBB

FORT WORTH, Texas.—East is east and west is west, and I have chose the best, Fort Worth, that is.

This is the legendary cow town of the southwest. Only smile when you say that, podner, because the home folks think it's a lot more beside, and they're right.

But even if the citizens have, in the main, discarded buckskin clothes for buttons and bows, this friendly city on the prairies is the center of the southwest's billion-dollar-plus cattle business.

It also is the center of one of the biggest bull markets in the world, and podner, do they peddle it! This is where the west begins all right, where the hand clasp is just a little stronger and the tall tales—even for Texas—just a mile longer.

Oil is king in Houston, but cattle built this pulsing city of 350,000, bursting at its seams in all directions. Cattle wear the crown here and if I were asked to devise a coat of arms for Fort Worth, I would decree a Hereford rampant on a field of Texas blue bonnets and oil derricks.

The old families with the solid fortunes are the cattle families. In Fort Worth, as in Buenos Aires, the only aristocratic money is "cattle" money. Anything else is equivalent to "being in trade." Everything, except poker.

This is probably the only community in the United States where a native son as monumentally successful as Sid Richardson, the independent oil baron lends respectability to his oil fortunes by investing it in cattle and cattle ranches! And by raising Quarter horses, the cream of cow ponies.

Oil Is a "Nuisance."

IT IS purely a nuisance to old time cattle clans to have some noney geologist discover oil in the good pastures. Old Mr. Waggoner, the grandfather of sculptress Electra Waggoner Biggs, was plumb cross when oil as well as cattle began to pour millions into his till.

Waggoner never was quite reconciled to the oil. The provoked him every time he thought about those oil men leaving the gates open, the ultimate sin in cow country. That is still the complaint against those oil people: Never can remember to close a gate.

Out here in southwest Texas, a man can't scarcely hold up his head or rightly consider himself in the cattle business if he hasn't got at least 25,000 acres in his ranch.

Speaking of Your Health

What Nails Tell Doctor

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

STRANGE as it may seem to many, an examination of the nails may give information about certain conditions which may be present. Peculiarly enough, it seems that disorders affecting the arteries may produce changes in the nails.

Normally, the nail has a white, crescent-shaped area at its base and, overlying the base of the nail, is a film of skin or cuticle, which is firmly fastened to the nail.

One form of arterial disturbance is known as Raynaud's disease. In this condition there is a spasm of the blood vessels which reduces the flow of blood through them. There may be minor forms of this condition. In these disorders, the layer of skin at the base of the nail becomes thin, and the material fastening the skin to the nail extends outward over the nail.

The same sort of a condition may develop in a form of neuritis. It has been found that when the nerves to the blood vessels have been cut to relieve the symptoms of Raynaud's disease, these abnormal conditions of the nails disappear.

If an artery is blocked off, due to the formation of a clot or to a spasm, the growth of the nails is retarded, so that cutting the nails may be unnecessary for a period of months. The nails become thick and rough, with ridges across them. The color of the nail also may become darker.

In those cases in which the blood supply is greatly reduced, the nails may become very sensitive, so that even slight pressure may cause excruciating pain. In some severe cases, the nail may become loose, dropping off.

Hence, it is evident that examination of the nails is important, since it will sometimes give evidence of severe disorders which may be present.

MISS MARIANN LINN TO BE WED TO JAMES F. EHALT

Couple To Exchange Nuptial Vows On May 28 In Rectory of St. Peter's Catholic Church

MAY 28 HAS BEEN CHOSEN as the date of the wedding of Miss Mariann Linn and James F. Ehalt. The couple will exchange nuptial vows in the rectory of St. Peter's Catholic church at 2:30 in the afternoon.

Thirty friends of the couple learned of the approaching marriage at an announcement party held Sunday at the home of the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Linn, 428 Shepard road.

After a social afternoon refreshments were served from a table covered with a lace cloth. Silver bells covered the chandelier from which white satin streamers were hung. On the streamers were written "Mariann and Jimmy, May 28."

A spring floral piece centered the table at which Miss Jean Kelly and Mrs. Richard R. Hoierman presided. Gardenia corsages were presented to each guest present.

Mr. Ehalt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Ehalt sr., 384 West Third street.

Miss Linn graduated from Mansfield Senior high school and the Mansfield Business school. She is employed at the Ford Motor company.

Mr. Ehalt, a graduate of St. Peter's high school, also graduated from Notre Dame university. He is employed by Westinghouse Electric corporation at St. Louis, Mo.

SHELBY — The American Legion Auxiliary met last night in a regular business meeting at the Legion home and voted to adopt a 12 bed ward at the Veterans Hospital in Dayton. Through this adoption the bed-ridden vets are given treats each month, the expenses for which are defrayed by the local auxiliary.

Members of the auxiliary also voted to send roller skates to the Soldiers and Sailors Children's Home at Xenia for Easter. Mrs. Russell Crispin donated two large dart sets for the same purpose.

A decision was made to send two girls to Buckeye State this year; one girl to be sponsored by the auxiliary and the other by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Plans were discussed for the operation of a canteen during May for the workers and Janitors to the bloodmobile bank.

Attendance at the open house at the Sandusky Poppy Shop on May 1 at the Soldiers and Sailors Home was stressed. Mrs. Christine Henson, Poppy chairman for the Department of Ohio, will be in charge of the program and will present some local speakers.

Mrs. Ione Evans, local Poppy chairman, discussed plans for the sale of Poppies which is to take place May 28. Initiations of new members will be held on

Show Spring Styles At Girl Scout House

A showing of spring fashions will be presented tonight in Shelby by the M. O'Neill company.

The display of fashions will be given at the Girl Scout house where the Beta Sigma Phi sorority will entertain with a dinner for members and guests.

On Monday evening a similar show was given at the home of Mrs. Henry Van Horn, Edgewood drive, when she entertained the members and guests of the Amy Allison circle.

Mrs. Clark W. Brook is in charge of arrangements. With the show she gives informal talks on the current modes. Mrs. Pat Myers, also of the Mansfield store, assists Mrs. Brook.

Birthday Party Honors Miss Taylor

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Taylor, 562 Garfield place, gave a party Saturday afternoon for their daughter, Maureen, in honor of her thirteenth birthday anniversary. Twelve of her friends were present. Colorful balloons strung throughout the rooms gave a carnival effect. A buffet supper was served with a large birthday cake centering the table.

Games were played and prizes were awarded to Janet Weaver, Vivian Gustin, Sandra Hartman, Maddy Sue Landre, Barbara and Mary Alice Boyd.

TO ENTERTAIN
Mrs. Charles Whatman, 276 West Third street, will be hostess to members of the Galilean Bible club at their next meeting on April 15.

Miss Doris Jane Singrey Wed To Lester Dale Rinehart

MISS DORIS JANE SINGREY became the bride of Lester Dale Rinehart in a beautiful home wedding Saturday evening at 7:10 p. m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Zolman.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Singrey, Fredericktown, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Rinehart, Mt. Gilead.

The candlelight ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. C. Nicholas before an altar of two beauty baskets of pink and white gladiolus, pine, palms and two seven branch candelabra. Nuptial music was played by Mrs. Carroll Rinehart.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a ballerina length gown of white mullin taffeta with an off the shoulder neckline, featuring a bertha. The bride wore a picture hat of illusion and for her only jewelry, she wore a double strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. An arm bouquet of white sweet peas centered with pink rosebuds, tied with white satin streamers, completed the ensemble.

Mrs. Russell Kempton, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor in an orchid gown identical to the brides. She wore a heart shaped head dress of matching color. Her arm bouquet was of pink and white variegated carnations, tied with orchid streamers.

Miss Esther Singrey and Miss Marilyn Rinehart, sisters of the bride and groom, respectively, served as bridesmaids in gowns of yellow and blue green with matching head dresses. Miss Singrey carried an arm bouquet of white carnations with green streamers while Miss Rinehart carried jonquils tied with yellow streamers.

Carroll Rinehart, brother of the groom, served as best man and ushers were David Singrey and Russell Kempton. Thomas Singrey and Donald Rinehart lighted the tapers.

A reception for 35 was held in the home immediately following the ceremony. The table was decorated with lighted candles and pink and white sweet peas. The table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. David Singrey and Mrs. Leylee Queen presided at the reception table in dresses of turquoise and pink.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Singrey wore a black and white crepe dress with a red rosebud corsage while Mrs. Rinehart wore a dress of aqua blue with a white carnation corsage.

Mrs. Rinehart, who accompanied her husband to Fort Knox, Kentucky, where he is stationed with the Army, wore a winter white suit with matching white accessories, and a pink rosebud corsage from her bridal bouquet.

ISALY BLUE RIBBON CHILDREN... are Mansfield youngsters who drink Isaly's Homogenized Milk. Photographs of Blue Ribbon children, untouched and used with the full permission of parents, appear in Isaly advertisements every Tuesday and Sunday. Today's Blue Ribbon Girl is Karen Elaine Smith, 14 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith, 144 East Luther Place.

Ask any man what kind of a cake he would like, and the answer generally received is, "Chocolate." A marble cake, richly chocolate iced, brought on at the end of any meal, is sure to meet with the delight of all the family. It's nice for a special dinner, too, and wonderful served with ice cream. Bake it in a ring pan, instead of a loaf, encircle it with marachino cherries for a dressy touch.

CHOCOLATE GLOSS FROSTING
 1½ cups sugar
 ¼ teaspoon salt
 1½ cups hot water
 4 squares (4 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
 6 tablespoons cornstarch
 ¼ cup cold water
 1 teaspoon vanilla

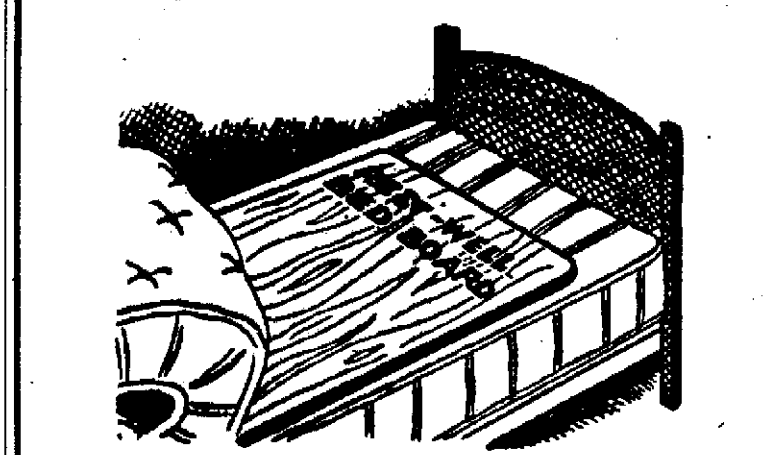

Combine sugar, salt, hot water and chocolate. Cook, stirring until sugar is dissolved and chocolate melted. Boil slowly 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Blend cornstarch and cold water; add gradually to chocolate mixture. Cook, stirring until thickened. Add vanilla. Beat until smooth. Spread on cake.

 For Wednesday, April 6

A CRITICAL and curious tangle in important matters may be pressed to a more manageable and tractable state of affairs, in which emotions and impulses may be discreetly manipulated by sound sense and rationalization of perplexities and strange circumstances. Rash and wild moves might add to complications, whereas finesse, tact and the purely personal intervention of friends and well-wishers might have power to give stability and clarity to seriously involved and challenging affairs. Move graciously for results.

For the Birthday
 Those whose birthday it is, may find themselves deep in a tangled and complicated situation, which may be radical and far-reaching in its climax. The ultimate depends upon the sound sense and good judgement exercised in efforts at rationalizing a strange and baffling set of circumstances. Plans of a constructive nature should be submitted to wiser heads, where balance and experience may regulate erratic impulses, or youthful energies or stress of emotions. There may be a complete turning over of interests, contacts and environs. Personal and romantic associations also partake of the revolutionary upheaval, in which elders or influential persons withhold approbation. A New Hospital Plan Sweeps Mansfield

Entire Families Are Protected For Sickness, Accidents and Childbirth

Cash For Hospital Room, Surgeon Fees, Medicine, X-Rays, Etc.

Information Free

If you live in Mansfield or surrounding territory your family can now be assured of cash if any member should go to the hospital on account of sickness, accident or childbirth. Take advantage of this new low cost hospital plan — complete and free information is yours for the asking. Just send your name and address on the coupon below. No obligation.

Cost Is Small
 Only a Few Cents a Day

The members of your immediate family can be protected under a single contract on which you make only one small payment each month. Only a few cents a day for the average family.

Hospital Room and Board Paid

This Colonial Hospital Plan is one of the most liberal ever devised and pays: (1) Cash for room and meals in hospital for any member of the family; (2) Cash to help pay the fees for the doctor or surgeon; (3) Cash for various hospital extra charges, such as operating room fee, medicines, X-rays, anesthetic, ambulance service, etc.

Pays Whether Disability Occurs at Home or at Work

This new plan is backed by the old reliable Colonial Insurance Company which has already paid thousands of dollars in claims to people just like you. Remember, you get cash for hospital expenses whether the disability occurs at home or at work.

Choose Your Own Hospital and Your Own Doctor

This plan does not limit you to any certain hospital or any certain doctor. The money is paid direct to your hospital, or your doctor or you, whichever you direct. So you can pick your own hospital and your own doctor. Your contract identifies you at any hospital. This plan provides other benefits too and anyone interested will get full and complete information free by mailing the coupon below. There is no obligation and you make up your own mind if you want the plan. Act now! Tomorrow may be too late.

House Debates Money Bill

WASHINGTON — (U) — Programs to combat communism abroad and subversives at home got strong financial support today from the House appropriations committee.

In an omnibus $747,216,102 money bill sent to the House for debate late this week, the committee recommended $2,900,000 more for the state department's "Voice of America" and $8,865,141 more for the FBI than the agencies got this year.

The Voice of America broadcasts are the mainstay of the state department program to acquaint the world—including areas behind the Soviet iron curtain—with the facts about America.

The FBI is in the midst of an expanded program to track down subversives throughout the nation.

The House bill providing funds for both those programs finances the state, justice and commerce departments and the federal judiciary for the year starting next July 1.

Its total includes $684,616,102 in cash and $62,600,000 in contract authority for which future appropriations may be required. This is a cut of $55,407,354 in cash and $5,400,000 in contract authority from what President Truman requested.

These are the allotments by agencies:

Commerce department: $259,927,605 cash and $58,800,000 contract authority granted; $301,073,500 cash and $67,000,000 contract authority requested.

State department: $271,405,656 cash and $2,900,000 contract authority granted; $285,313,756 cash asked.

Justice department: $132,579,141 cash and $900,000 contract authority granted; $132,402,000 cash and $1,000,000 contract authority requested.

Federal judiciary: $20,703,700 cash granted; $21,234,200 cash asked.

Except for the state department, more cash and contract authority was recommended for all the agencies than they received for the present fiscal year.

The state department was cut $11,538,434 in cash and $24,500,000 in contract authority from the current year's figure.

The justice department received $14,923,441 more cash and $900,000 more contract authority; commerce $80,175,105 more cash and $9,458,551 more contract authority, and the judiciary $1,351,600 more cash.

For the Voice of America, the committee allotted $34,000,000 in cash for next year. This is $2,000,000 less than the President requested but $2,900,000 more than the program received this year.

'Respectable' Beer Flayed

COLUMBUS — (U) — The national president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union charged that churches today are aiding in making beer "respectable."

Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, of Evanston, Ill., told several hundred Ohio WCTU members that an example of this was the appearance of a minister at a recent brewery opening at Peoria.

Mrs. Colvin linked crime and liquor, and charged that the anti-liquor element has a greater fight on its hands today than when the anti-saloon movement started.

Detained In Bucyrus

John Heitz, of Mansfield, was held in Crawford county jail at Bucyrus today for the grand jury on charges of non-support.

Heitz, 38, was bound over at a hearing before Mayor H. H. Hartmann, at Galion. The complaint was signed by his wife, Alberta, of Galion.

TRUMAN GREETED "BOY OF THE YEAR"—President Truman congratulates Jimmy Montgomery, 14, of Hot Springs, Ark., selected "National Boy of the Year" from a Boys' club of America membership of 300,000. Jimmy came to the White House with Rep. W. F. Norrell (right), Democrat of Arkansas.—(Internat'l).

Ashland Voters to Decide Opera House Sale Problem

ASHLAND — A revised referendum petition opposing sale of the city-owned Opera House and requesting a popular vote on the issue was accepted by city council Monday night. Council voted to turn over the petition to the Ashland county election board for presentation of the question at the November election.

An earlier petition had been turned down when the city law director, C. S. Hoffman, found defects in it. Leaders in the move to prevent the city from selling the building without popular approval recirculated the petitions and returned home to council recently.

Placing the Opera House problem on the ballot will throw the issue directly into the laps of the voters and relieve council of the annual dis-

Strike Truce Talks Start At Hercules

Federal Conciliator Confers With Groups

GALION — Negotiations were resumed this morning at the strike-bound Hercules Steel corporation. It was the first conference since an unsuccessful one on March 10. The strike, over a piece rate adjustment, was called Feb. 21 by the International Association of Machinists.

H. J. Montoney, federal conciliator from Columbus, meeting with union and management officials, intends returning to Columbus later in the day but is hopeful negotiations will continue until he is able to return here.

Galion's other strike-bound plant, the Central Ohio Steel company, resumes its talks in Cleveland on Thursday. Last week union and management officials conferred two days with federal conciliators there until a recess was called until Thursday. This week's talks will be held here.

Both local plants are idled as 150 employees, all IAM members, quit at each plant to halt production of steel dump bodies and other manufactured products of the two concerns. The Central Ohio Steel strike started March 10 and also resulted from a piece rate adjustment.

Civic Music Memberships Still Open

A few vacancies in Mansfield's Civic Music association membership remained at noon today and association officials urged any prospective members to contact Dean Eckert or E. D. Gibson.

Application for memberships also may be made at campaign headquarters in the basement of the Gas company building today and Wednesday. Membership for the year is $6 per person.

Officials of the association said today that present membership has passed the 900 mark.

A new waiting list will be started following the campaign so that names may be added to the membership should cancellations occur during the summer months.

Another Auto Firm Cuts Prices

DETROIT — (U) — Nash Motors cut its prices on passenger cars from $20 to $120 today, leaving Chrysler Motors the only major automobile producer which has not reduced its prices.

Nash, the fifth producer to join the deflationary spiral, announced its price reductions within a day after the Ford Motor company chopped $10 to $120 from its price tags.

Two VFW Posts Represented At Jubilee Observance

Mansfield veterans belonging to VFW Posts 3494 and 9943 are celebrating the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Veterans of Foreign Wars organization this week.

Delegates from these two posts are gathering in Columbus today for the state-wide observance of the Golden Jubilee.

Thomas T. Posa, trustee of VFW Post No. 9943 and the junior vice commander of the VFW district No. 10, and Mrs. Posa, are attending the anniversary dinner in Columbus tonight as the representatives of Post 9943.

VFW Post 3494 will have three members at the dinner.

Manager Backers Meet

Proponents of a manager-council municipal government for Mansfield will meet at 7:30 p. m. today in the Chamber of Commerce assembly room in the Farmers Bank building, to organize a permanent working force with the ultimate aim of bringing the issue to a vote.

A group representing labor, industry and professional men have outlined a general plan of action and have invited nearly 100 others to meet with them tonight.

The immediate aim of the group is to secure an active sponsoring committee of at least 100 persons representing all phases of living in Mansfield.

J. C. Gorman and James L. Young, temporary co-chairmen, have announced tonight's meeting is open to all Mansfielders.

Youth Held As Witness

TOLEDO — (U) — Howard M. Parsons, 19, of Liberty Center, O., was held in Lucas county jail today as a material witness in an inquest of the death of his fiancée, Helen Gibson, 17, to be held by Coroner Paul H. Hohly.

The girl's body was discovered Sunday morning in an automobile parked in a wooded section near Napoleon, O.

Dr. Hohly reported after an examination of the body that the girl died of carbon monoxide poisoning. Sheriff's deputies said a hole in the muffler of Parson's car caused the gas to penetrate through the floor.

Optimists Hear UN Delegate

M. Chavre, United Nations Delegate from India, will address the Mansfield Optimist club tomorrow noon at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Chavre has appeared before other Mansfield clubs in the past and at the high schools. Due to his U. N. status he is in a position to give the latest inside information on political and economical trends in his homeland.

Teen-Ager Shoots Lover

WAUKEGAN, Ill. — (U) — A blonde, 17-year-old girl wept hysterically today as she told of shooting to death her 52-year-old lover because he refused to divorce his wife and marry her.

Joyce Schumaker, dressed in slacks, saddle shoes and corduroy jacket, told authorities that she shot and killed Carl Reeder, clerk of Waukegan township high school. She said she had been intimate with him for months.

The shooting occurred late yesterday in Reeder's automobile.

Miss Schumaker drove the dying man to Victory Memorial hospital here, then hastened to the dress shop where Reeder's wife works and told her of the shooting.

Assistant State's Attorney Wilber Brazell said he would get a murder warrant against the girl.

Police said Miss Schumaker went to the Reeder home last Thursday and talked both to Reeder and his wife. She demanded that Reeder get a divorce, authorities said. Mrs. Reeder refused to consent.

The girl's parents said they had heard rumors that she was going with a married man, but had no "definite knowledge of any affair."

Teachers Given Wage Increase

CLEVELAND — (U) — Some 3,200 public school teachers in Cleveland will be making $300-a-year more, effective in September.

The board of education, at a special meeting yesterday, announced the increase, which also will effect school clerks, custodians and assistant custodians.

Barkley Goes Strolling Before Dawn; Youth Becomes 'Saddle-Shoe Set'

DREAM STREET JOTTINGS—

Prince Louis Victor Napoleon (who would take over the French throne if the world went backwards) getting the tip-of-the-hat from some of the hansom-kebab drivers on 59th Street. They knew him in Old Paree . . . Vice-Pres. Barkley taking a lone morning constitutional along Madison at 5 o'clock.

Miguelito Valdez, the Latin lark, sporting a leopard skin sports jacket in Lindy's.

Conrad Thibault, the great American barytone, who dropped radio contracts to tour the country and help churches in his one-man war against Moscow . . . Dolpuss Allyn McLerie of "Where's Cholly?" trying out her French accent in the Cub Room, for her next role in "Liberty." Irving Berlin, one of its parents, says: "She plays a French girl but one who hasn't any accent!" . . . Mae West's license plate: SX.

Sallies in Our Alley: They were discussing an elderly producer at Mocambo. He's about 70 and constantly seen with very young starlets. "Nobody takes it seriously," comforted a Gal-About-Town. "He's in much the same predicament as a deep-sea diver whose nose itches!"

Overheard in Sardi's: First Producer: "I had a lot of money trouble with that actor recently." "What happened?" asked another. "I finally gave in. I had to pay him Equity minimum!"

At Last Radio Shows Sense; It Will Give Away An Elephant (Maybe White)

NEW YORK—(AP)—It is welcome news indeed that a radio giveaway show is offering a live elephant as a prize. This is a milestone in the field of education. Wait and see. To win the elephant all you have to do is answer a phone call and identify a certain tune played on a certain program. This requires no Toscanini knowledge of music. It requires no long hours in library research. The correct answers to these radio quiz contests now are printed in $1 tip sheets, hawked on the streets around Broadway's neon temples. They are much more accurate than the four-bit tout cards peddled at most racetracks.

The offer of a free elephant is a sure sign that at last the radio giveaway programs are growing up. The industry is maturing. For too long they have competed to see which could give away the oddest assortment of zany prizes.

A typical package might include a trip to the South Pole, four brassieres, a motor car, 500 used pogo sticks, a sow complete with litter, a refrigerator, a stove, a motor car and a leaky liberty ship.

The winner of such a package was no longer a human being. He became a human hock shop, frantically seeking bidders for his impractical loot.

This chaos is reduced to order at one master stroke by the offer of an elephant. A live whale as first prize would have been only an elfin jesture. All

Council Considers Sewer Plan

Woman's Protest To Bring Action

A Mansfielder took a complaint about sewer facilities straight to city council at a special meeting three weeks ago and at its meeting Wednesday council is expected to correct the situation.

Included in the legislation awaiting council action is an ordinance to authorize the city engineer to prepare plans for an eight-inch sanitary sewer on Educational place from Home avenue to Arch street.

The fact that this action had not previously been taken as several council men believed it had, was brought to light when Mrs. J. M. Elzweiler, 125 Flint street, made an appearance at the special council meeting.

She told council she had no sewer facilities at her home, but was forced to pay sewer tax anyway.

The complaint brought up the issue as to why the proposed sewer on Educational place, which would service Mrs. Elzweiler's home, had not been carried through. Council Wednesday is expected to instruct the city engineer to proceed with the plans for the sewer.

Evangelism Rites Set

Churches Plan Program In Fall

A city-wide evangelism program for next fall was planned by members of the Richland County Ministerial association at their meeting yesterday.

The program of evangelism will be preceded by a city-wide survey on Sunday, Sept. 18. The survey will be followed from Oct. 2 to Oct. 9 by a week of united inspirational meetings in preparation for the personal evangelism program to follow.

On Oct. 9, Mansfield churches will join in the world-wide observance of Holy Communion and the week to follow will be marked by a visitation evangelism program by all churches of the city.

Each church, according to Rev. Charles W. Stoneburner, president of the association, will carry out the evangelism program in individual way and in a way which each shall determine.

Accused Man Leaves Jail

Chester V. Estill, of 165 Vennum avenue, held to the grand jury on charges of embezzlement, was ordered released yesterday from the county jail on his own recognizance.

The order was issued by Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, after an application was filed by the complaining witness, William J. Isch, secretary of the Weather Seal Central Ohio, Inc., who signed the complaint and Prosecutor Harold Lutz.

Lutz said Estill had voluntarily returned here from Alabama to face the charges and that he was now able to return to his job. Lutz said the defendant had no previous record. Estill is accused of embezzling $584 of the firm's money.

The club's facilities will be opened the middle of May, club officials announced. This includes the tennis courts and playgrounds, while the opening of the swimming pool will be postponed until the latter part of May.

Asks $20,000 Note Judgment

A cross-petition was filed yesterday in common pleas court by one of three defendants in an action brought by the Bellville Foundries, Inc., of Bellville, asking a $20,000 judgment on a promissory note. Norma Marie Kozak, of Maple Heights, in the cross-petition denies allegations in the firm's action and says $20,000 is due her on the note. She asks a mortgage on part of the foundry property in Bellville be foreclosed.

The company had filed an action, asking that a $20,000 promissory note issued by Clarence Kozak, former president of the company, be declared void. Clarence Kozak, a defendant, filed a motion asking an order to require the plaintiff to state definitely what interest, if any, he had in the matter.

The cross-petition asks that the Farmers Bank of Bellville be made a party-defendant in the suit and required to set up whatever claim it has against the property. Attorneys Marriott and Freehafer represent the defendants.

Agents' Staff At Wooster Parley

Workers in the county extension office went to Wooster today to attend an all-day session on preparation of reports. Principal speaker was O. C. Croy, district supervisor for extension services.

Making the trip were County Agent C. N. McGrew, Miss Mable Spray, home demonstration agent; Stanley Correll, agent in training, and Mrs. Anna Brunk, office secretary.

Galion Edges Madison In Ball Opener, 2-0

Tigers Get Only Hits In Big 6th

By CHARLEY STINE

The Galion Tigers got all of their hits in one inning yesterday to defeat Madison, 2-0, in the hastily-scheduled high school baseball opener at Blue Goose park.

Galion bunched its only two hits and a walk for the two tallies in the top half of the sixth inning to break up what had been a sterling pitcher's duel between the Tiger's 15-year-old sophomore, Ray Seif, and Madison's Dutch Bader.

Lack of batting practice for both teams made the pitcher's job an easy one. Nine Madison batters went down on strikes while Bader took 12 down swinging.

The game was originally scheduled last Thursday but was postponed by rain. But with the coming of yesterday's sunny weather Coaches Ed Ranow of Galion and Blaine Dowler got together around noon and set up the game.

PLAY AGAIN TODAY

Madison will meet Lexington high at 4 p. m. today with Tim Nedro, a pony left-hander, set to do the pitching. Nedro is a junior and got his only pitching experience in the Hot Stove Junior league last summer. The Rams travel to Lucas Friday.

Bader and Third-baseman Larry Sechrist both looked good in defeat. Each got two hits, one of Sechrist's being ringing double over the left-fielder's head.

McCaigall led off the sixth with a single over second base. Tucker attempted to sacrifice but Bader threw McCaigall out at second. Clean-up man Stoner then slapped the deciding hit into right field to bring both men home.

Madison threatened in the seventh but the rally ended when Ed Chelski was caught off second base after Jim Brightbill's fly. Gene Riblet led off the inning with a single to right, and Chelski forced him in at second.

Giants Lower Boom on Cleveland, 15 to 10

Lemon and Zoldak Feel 17-Hit Sting

LUBBOCK, Tex.—(INS)—The Cleveland Indians, boots and saddle intact, doffed their 10-gallon hats and blue jeans and rambled over to Lubbock, Tex., today where they hope to calm the heap big bats of the New York Giants.

Southpaw Injun Frank Papish was to be on the mound against Ray Foat of the Giants.

Cleveland's wranglers were a bit slow on the draw yesterday at El Paso where the Giants opened fire on Bob Lemon and Sam Zoldak to win 15-10.

The Empire City boys, spring playmates of the Indians for the past few seasons, lowered the boom on Bob Lemon and Zoldak, who combined their efforts to give the Giants 17 hits.

Six of the thunderous New Yorkers' blasts were doubles and three were home runs. Walker Cooper, Bobby Thomson and Pitcher Clint Hartung connected for the circuit.

Not to be outdone, however, the world champs blasted 15 hits off Hartung and Monte Kennedy, but they left too many Redskins stranded on the basepaths.

Lemon chucked the first four innings, in which time he allowed eight hits and seven runs. Sad Sam went the remaining distance, giving up nine bingles.

The score was tied at seven-all when Lemon took to the showers, but the Giants racked up three runs in the fifth and another threesome in the sixth to put the clincher on the game. They added two more in the eighth for good measure.

GET TWO APICE
Manager Lou Boudreau, Dale Mitchell, Catcher Ray Murray and Hank Edwards led the Indians' hit parade with two bingles each.

The citizens of Mineral Wells and Gordon, Tex., have petitioned Manager Boudreau, asking that Thurman Tucker, who lives in Mineral Wells and was born in Gordon, be allowed to play center field when the Tribe plays in Ft. Worth Thursday.

Boudreau has consented, so Tucker will play center field. He probably would have been in that spot anyway, because the shortstop-manager feels that Larry Doby is in need of a rest. Doby has been in the lineup more than any other Indian.

Casey to Fight . . .

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—(AP)—Hugh Casey, the ex-Brooklyn fireman, will have a lot of relief duty when the Pittsburgh Pirates this season but Manager Billy Meyer says it will be only for very short stretches.

He says he is most effective when he has only one to four innings of relief to hurl. If Meyer's plans work out he'll use Kirby Higbe, another Brooklyn pitcher, for the long-distance relief chores.

Porterfield Tough . . .

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(AP)—Casey Stengel, the New York Yankees' freshman manager, was exceedingly jovial today for two big reasons—Joe DiMaggio and Bob Porterfield.

DiMaggio, still nursing an ailing heel, snapped out of his slump yesterday when he delivered a double and single in three trips to the plate. It marked his

'Man What a Lie,' Says Satch When Fan Recalls Tilt

EL PASO, TEX.—(INS)—Ancient Satchel Paige, whose age nobody knows, was a bit hurt today.

Before yesterday's game with the New York Giants at El Paso, Tex., a spectator approached Satchel and asked for his autograph.

While Satch was signing the fellow said: "You probably don't remember me but I remember you. I pitched against you back in 1921 when you were with the Kansas City Monarchs."

The ramblin' Alabamian just shook his head, but when the man left he turned to Larry Doby and said:

"Man did you hear that lie?"

Fieldhouse to Cost Dayton U. $600,000

DAYTON — (AP)—The University of Dayton starts construction of a $600,000 field house within the next few weeks, and Father George Reneker, president, said the structure would be completed in 1950. The fieldhouse, with 4200 permanent seats, will handle an additional 1300 for basketball games.

Mansfield 'Am' Boxers Drop Four of Seven

Mansfield amateur boxers dropped four of seven fights on the Ashland Junior Chamber of Commerce show last night.

YMCAs boxers split in four bouts and the Friendly House team lost two of three.

Only convincing victory was scored by F-H's Lofton Fugue who knocked out Dick Miller of Marion in 1:56 of the first round. The two had staged a toe-to-toe slugfest until that time.

Two "Y" boys, Dick Hahn and Ray Seymour, won split decisions. Hahn beat Bill Davis, of Marion and Seymour was given the nod over Johnny Chalfant of Akron.

Ulysses Calloway was kayoed by Ashland's Harold Reep for the second time in eight days in the third round. The two met a week ago last night in a F-H show. The other F-H boy, Bill Wilborn, was dropped in 1:55 of the first round by Dick Bonfiglio of Ashland.

Dick James, Marion, knocked out Ted Stevens of the YMCA and Rollin Scott of Ashland won a decision over the Y's Willy Stevens.

LUBBOCK, Tex.—(AP)—Pitcher Don Black of the Cleveland Indians is not going to travel eastward with the Tribe who today meet the New York Giants here in the second of 12 exhibition games.

Black will fly to Marianna, Fla., training base for the Indians' farm clubs, and work out there, Manager Lou Boudreau announced.

"He can't get the right kind of conditioning on the road," Boudreau explained. "He needs a lot of running and throwing to get his strength back."

Black suffered a brain injury during a game last fall. Boudreau says he doubts if Don will see any action before June.

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—(AP)—As a reward for being "the most improved player on the club," Rookie Catcher Stan Lopata today was designated the Philadelphia Phillies' first-string catcher by Manager Eddie Sawyer.

Lopata's promotion drops veteran Andy Seminick to the second-string. Ken Silvestri, a third receiver, also may be retained.

The Phillies are scheduled to meet Montgomery of the Southeastern league for the second straight day today. Last night's contest between the clubs ended in a 2 to 1 victory for Philadelphia.

Suits Put Confusion In Baseball

By TED SMITS
NEW YORK—(AP)—Baseball is more than a game. It is even more than a national institution. It is a ritual, almost a religion.

Not since the Black Sox scandal in 1919-20 has anything serious happened to disturb the serene and sacred flow of this intensely American sport.

But now there is confusion. The players are going through their parts, but they whisper to each other, "What does the Gardella case mean? If there more money in it for me?"

And the club owners say privately, "What if the courts upset the reserve clause? How can we stay in business?"

AWAITED DECISION

The tumult started Feb. 9. On the 17th floor of the 30-story federal courthouse in downtown New York, a couple of reporters dropped in on the clerk of the federal court, A. M. Bell, and he said brightly: "There's the decision you've been waiting for."

It was on long, legal-size paper with a red line down the left-hand side. It said in effect that justices of the United States courts of appeals for the second district ruled that Danny Gardella could go ahead with his suit for $300,000 damages against organized baseball.

Danny Gardella was a wartime outfielder for the New York Giants. He wasn't so much as a ballplayer, and when in the spring of 1946 he appeared at the training table in a ritzy Florida hotel in decidedly informal attire eyebrows were lifted, words exchanged.

He was told to put on a clean shirt, a tie, and a coat. The next thing anyone knew Danny was down in Mexico playing in the Pasquale Brothers' league, which was considered outlaw from the U. S. viewpoint. No one in the Giant organization gave a hoot.

Along with some really big shots such as Max Lanier and Mickey Owen, who "jumped" to Mexico, Gardella was banned from organized baseball for five years by Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

After the decision of the Court of Appeals that surprised so many people, Lanier and Fred Martin sued organized baseball for $2,500,000, charging that they, too, had been deprived of a means of livelihood.

But Gardella and his lawyer, Frederic A. Johnson, started it

Show Cause Order Filed

NEW YORK — (INS) — Organized baseball must show cause today why the appeal of Max Lanier and Fred Martin, former pitchers of the St. Louis Cardinals, should not be heard immediately.

Judge Harry B. Chase of the circuit court of appeals signed the show cause order late yesterday when John L. Flynn, attorney for the players, filed notice of appeal from a recent federal court refusal to grant his clients a temporary injunction for reinstatement.

Lanier and Martin, who were banned from baseball for five years for jumping to the Mexican league, are suing organized baseball for $2,500,000.

all and as far as the law and the public is concerned Gardella's is the name that the case bears. There is irony in the fact that a player who never achieved big league stardom is threatening to become a courtroom immortal.

Baseball is frightened because Gardella's damage suit is aimed at the legality of the reserve clause, which baseball owners say is the rock foundation of the game. Under the rules this clause is in all baseball contracts.

BINDS PLAYERS

The reserve clause is a promise to which every professional baseball player agrees when he signs any contract. It binds him to sign up again the following year. This goes on indefinitely. It permits him to be sold or traded without his permission (or without his receiving any part of the purchase price).

Put it this way. The Boston Red Sox own Ted Williams. Give or take a few thousand he gets around $100,000 for his work this year. If next year the Red Sox offered him only $75,000 (the maximum reduction of 25 per cent which is allowed) Ted can refuse to play, but he cannot offer his services to any other club.

The bargaining between a club and a player is limited on one side by how badly the club needs the athlete, and on the other by how long the player is willing to hold out without any salary.

In other words, each club "reserves" the players it signs as its private property.

A club can terminate its contract with a player on written notice by paying 30 days' salary. The player has no such avenue of escape.

As a spectator sport, basketball is second only to football. . . . Third in spectator appeal is baseball, with football fourth. . . . Biggest margin in high school basketball was run up in 1934 when Central high of Kansas City defeated the Rainbow AC, 234 to 2. . . . Wah Wah Jones, Kentucky star, counted 2,398 points in four years of scholastic play with Harlan county high in Kentucky. . . . Single game record over the nation probably is held by Walter Piekarski who notched 81 points for Chicago Tilden high against Dunbar in a 122-to-22 victory last year.

JIM LACY of Baltimore Loyola is tops among the collegiate players with 2,199 points in 123 games over four years. . . . Paul Arizin, Villanova player, pumped in 85 points in a single game this year. . . . Kentucky's game winning margin this year was 25.5 points while Rhode Island State was the top offensive team with a mark of 71.6. . . . Oklahoma Aggies paced the defensive figures with 35.2.

THE NATIONAL Baseball congress needs 5,000 umpires for its league and tournament program this year. . . . Joe Kuhel, Washington Senator manager, lists Lefty Grove as the fastest of all fast ball pitchers. . . . Talking about speed, Veteran Don McNeill says Pancho Gonzales, the amateur tennis king, has a faster service than Jack Kramer. . . . Movie Actor Charles Coburn is giving up his stable of harness race horses. . . . Coburn and his partner, Paul McPherson, had 14 head.

LEFTY WEISMAN, the Cleveland Indian trainer, has quite a reputation as a story spinner. . . . He was telling one the other day when Dale Mitchell came in the dressing room complaining of a sore arm. . . . Without skipping a sentence, Lefty motioned Dale to the rubbing table and started manipulating his arm. . . . After 15 minutes, he asked, "Is this doing any good?" "I doubt it," replied Mitchell, "You've been rubbing my right arm. It's the left one that's sore."

Junior Church 5's Battle Tonight For Round Title

Second half champion of the YMCA junior church basketball league will be decided tonight when St. John and First Christian battle at 8:30 p. m. on the 'Y' court. . . . St. John's ran undefeated to the first half championship but was beaten once in the second half race. First Christian also has one defeat and the winner of tonight's playoff game will have the right to vie with the first half winners for the championship trophy. Of course, if St. John's wins tonight, no second game will be necessary. . . . Grace Gospel and Central Methodist will meet in the preliminary at 7:30 p. m.

High Ball Teams To Meet Tonight

Pairings for the Class A sectional high school baseball tournament to be held here the first week in May will be made at a meeting set for 8 p. m. tonight at the YMCA. . . . Schools to participate in the tournament are Senior high, Madison, Shelby, Ashland, Bucyrus, Galion and Willard. Jim Lympier is tournament manager.

34 Try For Lima O-1 League Team

LIMA — Thirty-four candidates reported yesterday to Manager Grover Hartley as the Lima Chiefs of the Ohio-Indiana league opened a week's tryout camp at Halloran park's trout camp. . . . The men came at their own expense, but those signed will be reimbursed by the club when spring training opens next Monday. Three of the prospects are from Toronto, Canada, and one from Pulaski, Va.

Galion Edges Madison In Ball Opener, 2-0

Tigers Get Only Hits In Big 6th

By CHARLEY STINE

The Galion Tigers got all of their hits in one inning yesterday to defeat Madison, 2-0, in the hastily-scheduled high school baseball opener at Blue Goose park.

Galion bunched its only two hits and a walk for the two tallies in the top half of the sixth inning to break up what had been a sterling pitcher's duel between the Tiger's 15-year-old sophomore, Ray Seif, and Madison's Dutch Bader.

Lack of batting practice for both teams made the pitcher's job an easy one. Nine Madison batters went down on strikes while Bader took 12 down swinging.

The game was originally scheduled last Thursday but was postponed by rain. But with the coming of yesterday's sunny weather Coaches Ed Ranow of Galion and Blaine Dowler got together around noon and set up the game.

Madison will meet Lexington high at 4 p. m. today with Tim Nedro, a pony left-hander, set to do the pitching. Nedro is a junior and got his only pitching experience in the Hot Stove Junior league last summer. The Rams travel to Lucas Friday.

Bader and Third-baseman Larry Sechrist both looked good in defeat. Each got two hits, one of Sechrist's being a ring double over the left-fielder's head.

McCanigall led off the sixth with a single over second base. Tucker attempted to sacrifice but Bader threw McCanigall out at second. Clean-up man Stoner then slapped the deciding hit into right field to bring both men home.

Madison threatened in the seventh but the rally ended when Ed Chelski was caught off second base after Jim Brightbill's fly. Gene Riblet led off the inning with a single to right, and Chelski forced him at second.

Galion's score: 2-0. Madison's score: 0-2. Hits: Galion 6, Madison 2. Errors: Galion 0, Madison 1. Bases on balls: Galion 1, Madison 2. Struck out: Galion 10, Madison 4. Pitcher: Ray Seif (Galion), Dutch Bader (Madison). Game time: 1 hour 15 minutes.

Van Brocklin To Join Rams

LOS ANGELES — Norm Van Brocklin, passing star of the University of Oregon football squad, probably will play next fall with the Los Angeles Rams of the national pro circuit.

Coach Clark Shaughnessy of the Rams said yesterday he had been informed that Van Brocklin graduates in June. "This means he will be with our Ram squad this summer, which is mighty good news for us," the coach added.

Efforts have been made at Oregon to induce Van Brocklin to postpone his graduation so he can remain with the webfoot team next fall.

Queen City Gets Taste of Hockey

CINCINNATI — Cincinnati, which will have a team in the American hockey league next season, will get another test of the ice sport this weekend.

Officials of the Cincinnati garden announced that the Montreal Royals of the Quebec senior league and the Quebec all-stars of the Quebec junior league would meet here Saturday night and Sunday afternoon in a pair of games.

Dodgers Up to Old Tricks; Commissioner Says NCOOA 'One of Best'

NEW YORK — The Brooklyn Dodgers, once again, sport the best record among National and American league teams in grapefruit league competition.

The Dodgers, as in the past two years, have cleaned up against minor league teams in compiling their imposing record.

Burt Shotton's crew has won 13 games and lost four for a .765 mark. They have posted eight wins without a loss against minor league teams.

The Dodgers, who were grapefruit league kings in 1947 and 1948, have won 59 games and lost only five to minor league teams the past three seasons. Against major league clubs the Dodgers have a three-year record of 14 wins and 12 setbacks.

Pittsburgh's Pirates, leaders in the National the past two weeks, dropped to second. The Pirates have a 15-6 slate. Every team in the National with the exception of the Boston Braves is playing at a .500 or better clip. The Braves are last with an 8-13 record.

The Philadelphia Athletics continue to boast the best mark in the American league. The A's have won 15 and lost six for a .714 mark. The A's also have harped on minor league opposition, winning nine games in 12 starts against the minors.

This High School Tosser Doesn't Believe In Runs

LONG BEACH, Calif. — Major league scouts are keeping tabs on a 16-year-old Wilson high school junior who is phenomenally adept at making batters fan the breeze.

His name is Frank Followell. The six-foot southpaw has pitched seven games this season. There have been no-hitters and the other four merely shut-outs.

Frank hasn't been scored on in 49 innings.

"It's a matter of temperament," Cliff Meyers, his coach, explained today. "Frank just can't stand to have enemy batters touch his offerings."

Meyers goes on to say Frank isn't just another kid with a lot of speed. He's got a remarkable change of pace, slow curve, fast curve and a drop.

Streitmater's 614 Tops Bowling Firing

Mansfield bowling competition last night produced only three honor roll scores and all of those were produced in the Commercial C circuit on the Colony lanes.

The closest any of the other seven loops came was a 595 in the Club circuit.

Urschel Insurance's Jake Streitmater was the top guy with 165-197-252—614 while J. McPhern, Mansfield Tire, had 220-202-188—611. J. Schmidt, also of Tire, came in with 191-225-187—603.

Al Baki, Barnes Manufacturing, was the No. 4 man with 192-213-182—587. Others: R. Mowen, of Montgomery-Ward, 581; D. Bachman, Long Bar, 575; Kearns, Frisch Grocery, 558; R. Faulk, Orphans, 556, and Harry Koozer, Independent Towel, 554. Kearns wrapped games of 202 and 208 around a 148.

League-leading Mansfield Tire won three games from Pioneer Printing while Barnes fired a 2718 to sweep a trio from Wards.

Cliff Heaton, rolling in the anchor position for Arima club, was the No. 1 fellow in the Club circuit with his 176-230-189—595. Pete Linster, American Legion, was second with 199-179-183—561. Others: R. Harper, Doherty's, 550; John Hoff, Liederkranz, 542; D. Rex, Schoolmasters, 537; G. Lanning Jr., Globe Steel, 526, and John Swank, Optimist, 526.

Sweeps were achieved by Lions club over University, American Legion over Baku Grotto and Doherty's over Optimist. Globe was high team with 2530.

Orlie Grable was the individual leader in the Richland A league with a 585. Rolling for the Richland quintet, Grable had games of 192, 178 and 215. Gene Rudolph, Kozak Distributing, was second with 193-183-191—579.

Others: Nick Weber, McCarrick's Gift Station, 578; Heck Heckner, McCarrick's 538; Wade Clow, Sons of Italy, 538 and Carl Hellman, Morgan Cleaners, 536.

Weber had games of 212, 201 and 165.

Four sweeps were recorded: Kozak Distributing beating Oak Park Tavern, Richland Recreation, winning over Belleville Foundry, Ohio Sport Center taking Wonder Bread and Morgan Cleaners going over Mansfield Sanitary Pottery.

Kozak's was tops with 2687.

Individual lead in the Richland C league went to Jack Menke of News-Journal No. 1 with 195-182-192—569. Robert Forsythe,

Extend N-J Maple Meet Six Days

Continued high interest shown in the News-Journal head pin tournament today prompted tournament officials to make a six-day extension to the meet. It will now close April 30 instead of April 24.

Art Hiborn, Colony alley manager who is also the tournament head, reported that some bowlers were being crowded out of the meet because of regular league schedules. The additional time will give them a chance to try their luck before the alleys close for the summer on May 1.

A total of 256 lines had been rolled in the tournament at closing time last night. The figure was much higher than expected for the first ten days of the tournament.

In announcing the extension, Hiborn also stressed the availability of the alleys in the afternoons. Many of the entrants are competing at that time to avoid the nightly schedule of leagues.

Arlene Peters took over temporary possession of the Women's trophy with a 113-103-95—311 score in Class A. Helen Wilhelm rolling along with her, took over sixth spot with a 275.

TWO OTHER LEADERS

New leaders appeared in two other divisions—women's and men's Class B. Joe Frisch counted 87-113-110—320 to take the lead in his bracket while Irene Walters tossed 253 to take the women's B lead. Frisch had 35 straight hits on the head pin after missing his first frame.

Other new scores include: Men's Class A—Skeets Wolfe, 311; Chas. McMillen, 304; Joe Harrod, 285; Orlie Grable, 304; Harold Selby, 305; Red Burger, 299; Carl Englehorn, 328; Al Cardula, 294; Harold Jones, 312; Carl Hellman, 276; Rammy Jones, 296; Gene Funtun, 296; Red Burger, 292; Phil Wages, 293; Ray McKinley, 288; Madie Young, 282; Ed Miller, 288 and 285; Paul Jewel, 280; Bud McKee, 288.

Class B—Red McNamee, 276; Ralph Foulkes, 261; Russ Cross, 263; Bernie Reno, 240; Joe Heller, 284; Bill Jacobs, 271; Red Jacobs, 277; Harold Matthews, 271; Fred Miller, 267; L. Foust, 280; Charles Altman, 288 and 285; Jack Applin, 296 and John Waldman, 284.

Class C—Bill Hoffman, 146; John Speck, 262; Russ Wagner, 264; Gene Everidge, 221; Jack Maurer, 269; Ernie Burkett, 261; Bill Hall, 215; V. O'Connell, 270; A. W. Noah, 257; Ed Cantor, 247; A. Callahan, 214; W. Wagner, 268; R. Daniel, 120; E. W. Noah, 270; Ed Cantor, 247; Mary Jacobs, 183; and Bert Berout, 231; Dan Beer, 227; F. Urache, 287; Jake Urache, 248; Bob Somers, 264; Joe Scott, 252.

Women's A—Dorothy Jenson, 224; Helen Gray, 233; Lou Fischer, 187; Kate Herr, 218; Marcada Heiser, 269; Hazel Altman, 267 and 268; Elizabeth Kutschall, 165; Mary Miller, 265; Bertha Hoffman, 224; Mary Miller, 265; Kitty Robinson, 277; Dorothy Jenson, 268; Marcada Heiser, 263; Gerrie McCarty, 231; Cynthia Aprian, 231; Jerry Harrod, 231; Elizabeth Shannon, 201; Gladys Mace, 271; Gladys Beer, 225; Bernie Reno, 240.

Women's C—Ann Romano, 184; Evelyn Schindler, 174; Harriet Ferrbrache, 182; Mildred Kessler, 233; L. Teschler, 200; Marge Beveridge, 231.

Giants Lower Boom on Cleveland, 15 to 10

Lemon and Zoldak Feel 17-Hit Sting

LUBBOCK, Tex.—(INS)—The Cleveland Indians, boots and saddle intact, doffed their 10-gallon hats and blue jeans and rambled over to Lubbock, Tex., today where they hope to calm the heap big bats of the New York Giants.

Southpaw Injun Frank Papish was to be on the mound against Ray Poat of the Giants.

Cleveland's wranglers were a bit slow on the draw yesterday at El Paso where the Giants opened fire on Bob Lemon and Sam Zoldak to win 15-10.

The Empire City boys, spring playmates of the Indians for the past few seasons, lowered the boom on Bob Lemon and Zoldak, who combined their efforts to give the Giants 17 hits.

Six of the thunderous New Yorkers' blasts were doubles and three were home runs. Walker Cooper, Bobby Thomson and Pitcher Clint Hartung connected for the circuit.

Not to be outdone, however, the world champs blasted 15 hits off Hartung and Monte Kennedy, but they left too many Redskins stranded on the basepaths.

Lemon chucked the first four innings, in which time he allowed eight hits and seven runs. Sam went the remaining distance, giving up nine bingles.

The score was tied at seven-all when Lemon took to the show, but the Giants racked up three runs in the fifth and another three in the sixth to put the clincher on the game. They added two more in the eighth for good measure.

GET TWO A PIECE

Manager Lou Boudreau, Dale Mitchell, Catcher Ray Murray and Hank Edwards led the Indians' hit parade with two bingles each.

The citizens of Mineral Wells and Gordon, Tex., have petitioned Manager Boudreau, asking that Thurman Tucker, who lives in Mineral Wells and was born in Gordon, be allowed to play center field when the Tribe plays in Ft. Worth Thursday.

Boudreau has consented, so Tucker will play center field. He probably would have been in that spot anyway, because the shortstop-manager feels that Larry Doby is in need of a rest. Doby has been in the lineup more than any other Indian.

Casey to Fight . . .

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—(INS)—Hugh Casey, the ex-Brooklyn fireman, will have a lot of relief duty for the Pittsburgh Pirates this season but Manager Billy Meyer says it will be only for very short stretches.

He says he is most effective when he has only one to four innings of relief to hurl. If Meyer's plans work out he'll use Kirby Higbe, another Brooklyn pitcher, for the long-distance relief chores.

Porterfield Tough . . .

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(UP)—Casey Stengel, the New York Yankees' freshman manager, was exceedingly jovial today for two big reasons—Joe DiMaggio and Bob Porterfield.

DiMaggio, still nursing an ailing heel, snapped out of his slump yesterday when he delivered a double and single in three trips to the plate. It marked his

EL PASO, TEX.—(INS)—Ancient Satchel Paige, whose age nobody knows, was a bit hurt today.

Before yesterday's game with the New York Giants at El Paso, Tex., a spectator approached Satchel and asked for his autograph.

While Satch was signing the fellow said: "You probably don't remember me but I remember you. I pitched against you back in 1921 when you were with the Kansas City Monarchs."

The ramblin' Alabamian just shook his head, but when the man left he turned to Larry Doby and said:

"Man did you hear that lie?"

Fieldhouse to Cost Dayton U. $600,000

DAYTON — (INS)—The University of Dayton starts construction of a $600,000 field house within the next few weeks, and Father George Reneker, president, said the structure would be completed in 1950.

The fieldhouse, with 4200 permanent seats, will handle an additional 1300 for basketball games.

Fielding Goes Bad . . .

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(UP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, who have been losing games as the result of weak hitting, varied their routine yesterday and dropped one through weak fielding.

They committed five errors in taking a 5-4 beating from Boston in 10 innings at Sarasota, Fla. Four of Boston's runs were unearned. It was the Cards' sixth consecutive defeat.

Looks Just Same . . .

ATLANTA — (INS)—Minor league competition looked just the same as the big leagues to the Detroit Tigers today on their northward swing from Florida.

The Atlanta Crackers of the Southern Association slapped the Tigers 3 to 2 last night with a two-run eighth inning rally featured by Jim Woodall's two-run pinch single off lefthander Ted Gray.

Winning Road . . .

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—(INS)—Although unconcerned about his Boston Braves' current record of only seven wins in 21 Grapefruit league starts, Manager Billy Southworth vows he will put them on the winning road as they trek northward.

The Tribesmen play the Cincinnati Reds here today and tomorrow and the latter should heed Southworth's warning. "I'm through experimenting," Southworth said. "We're going to play our nine remaining exhibition games for keeps. I'm going to keep all of the regulars in from start to finish. If our pitchers get into jams, I'll yank them as I would in a regular season game."

Point With Pride . . .

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—(INS)—The Cincinnati Reds rolled into Jacksonville today as the first stop on a protracted trip home—and they couldn't do much "pointing with pride" as far as the last two days were concerned.

In those two days the Redlegs have played 18 innings of baseball and have collected only six hits and one run. That's bad but it gets worse. The puny attack has been against three pitchers with little or no major league hurling experience.

Kurt Krieger, a St. Louis Cardinal rookie, and Erv Dusak, a converted outfielder, held them to five hits Sunday. Yesterday, Bob Porterfield, who was with New York Yankees only in the fog end of last season, gave up but one hit as the New Yorkers hung a 2 to 0 shutout on Cincinnati.

Black to Work . . .

LUBBOCK, Tex.—(INS)—Pitcher Don Black of the Cleveland Indians is not going to travel eastward with the Tribe who today meet the New York Giants here in the second of 12 exhibition games.

Black will fly to Marianna, Fla., training base for the Indians' farm clubs, and work out there, Manager Lou Boudreau announced.

"He can't get the right kind of conditioning on the road," Boudreau explained. "He needs a lot of running and throwing to get his strength back."

Black suffered a brain injury during a game last fall. Boudreau says he doubts if Don will see any action before June.

Lopata Promoted . . .

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—(UP)—As a reward for being "the most improved player on the club," Rookie Catcher Stan Lopata today was designated the Philadelphia Phillies' first-string catcher by Manager Eddie Sawyer.

Lopata's promotion drops veteran Andy Seminick to the second-string. Ken Silvestri, a third receiver, also may be retained.

The Phillies are scheduled to meet Montgomery of the Southeastern league for the second straight day today. Last night's contest between the clubs ended in a 2 to 1 victory for Philadelphia.

MEET THE CHAMPS—1949 women's city bowling champions is the 36 Bar team, above, which rolled a 2535 score. Left to right, team members are Kitty Robinson, Sis DeWeese, Hon Wehinger, Elnora Gentile and Helen Beeber. Wehinger also won the all-events with 1616 and DeWeese teamed with Evelyn Marshman to take the doubles title with 1051.

Mansfield 'Am' Boxers Drop Four of Seven

Mansfield amateur boxers dropped four of seven fights on the Ashland Junior Chamber of Commerce show last night. YMCA boxers split in four bouts and the Friendly House team lost two of three.

Only convincing victory was scored by F.H.'s Lofton Fugue who knocked out Dick Miller of Marion in 1:56 of the first round. The two had staged a toe-to-toe slugging duel up until that time.

Two "Y" boys, Dick Hahn and Ray Seymour, won split decisions. Hahn beat Bill Davis, of Marion and Seymour was given the nod over Johnny Chalfant of Akron.

Ulysses Calloway was kayoed by Ashland's Harold Reep for the second time in eight days in the third round. The two met a week ago last night in a F.H. show. The other F.H. boy, Bill Wilborn, was dropped in 1:55 of the first round by Dick Bonfiglio of Ashland.

Dick James, Marion, knocked out Ted Stevens of the YMCA and Rollin Scott of Ashland won a decision over the Y's Willy Stevens.

Suits Put Confusion In Baseball

By TED SMITS

NEW YORK—(AP)—Baseball is more than a game. It is even more than a national institution. It is a ritual, almost a religion.

Not since the Black Sox scandal in 1919-20 has anything serious happened to disturb the serene and sacred flow of this intensely American sport.

But now there is confusion. The players are going through their parts, but they whisper to each other, "What does the Gardella case mean? If there more money in it for me?"

And the club owners say privately, "What if the courts upset the reserve clause? How can we stay in business?"

AWAITED DECISION

The tumult started Feb. 9. On the 17th floor of the 30-story federal courthouse in downtown New York a couple of reporters dropped in on the clerk of the federal court, A. M. Bell, and he said brightly: "There's the decision you've been waiting for."

It was on long, legal-size paper with a red line down the left-hand side. It said in effect that justices of the United States courts of appeals for the second district ruled that Danny Gardella could go ahead with his suit for $300,000 damages against organized baseball.

Danny Gardella was a wartime outfielder for the New York Giants. He wasn't so much as a ballplayer, and when in the spring of 1946 he appeared at the training table in a ritzy Florida hotel in decidedly informal attire eyebrows were lifted, words exchanged.

He was told to put on a clean shirt, a tie, and a coat. The next thing anyone knew Danny was down in Mexico playing in the Pasquale Brothers' league, which was considered outlaw from the U. S. viewpoint. No one in the Giant organization gave a hoot.

Along with some really big shots such as Max Lanier and Mickey Owen, who "jumped" to Mexico, Gardella was banned from organized baseball for five years by Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

After the decision of the Court of Appeals that surprised so many people, Lanier and Fred Martin sued organized baseball for $2,500,000, charging that they, too, had been deprived of a means of livelihood.

But Gardella and his lawyer, Frederic A. Johnson, started it

Show Cause Order Filed

NEW YORK — (INS) — Organized baseball must show cause today why the appeal of Max Lanier and Fred Martin, former pitchers of the St. Louis Cardinals, should not be heard immediately.

Judge Harry B. Chase of the circuit court of appeals signed the show cause order late yesterday when John L. Flynn, attorney for the players, filed notice of appeal from a recent federal court refusal to grant his clients a temporary injunction for reinstatement.

Lanier and Martin, who were banned from baseball for five years for jumping to the Mexican league, are suing organized baseball for $2,500,000.

all and as far as the law and the public is concerned Gardella's is the name that the case bears. There is irony in the fact that a player who never achieved big league stardom is threatening to become a courtroom immortal.

Baseball is frightened because Gardella's damage suit is aimed at the legality of the reserve clause, which baseball owners say is the rock foundation of the game. Under the rules this clause is in all baseball contracts.

BINDS PLAYERS

The reserve clause is a promise to which every professional baseball player agrees when he signs any contract. It binds him to sign up again the following year. This goes on indefinitely. It permits him to be sold or traded without his permission (or without his receiving any part of the purchase price).

Put it this way. The Boston Red Sox own Ted Williams. Give or take a few thousand he gets around $100,000 for his work this year. If next year the Red Sox offered him only $75,000 (the maximum reduction of 25 per cent which is allowed) Ted can refuse to play, but he cannot offer his services to any other club.

The bargaining between a club and a player is limited on one side by how badly the club needs the athlete, and on the other by how long the player is willing to hold out without any salary.

In other words, each club "reserves" the players it signs as its private property.

A club can terminate its contract with a player on written notice by paying 30 days' salary. The player has no such avenue of escape.
